HOUSE PASSES
BILL TO SET
UP LITTLE FBISYSTEM IS CALLED
LANSING GESTAPO
BY DISSENTER

Lansing, April 16 (P)—A bill setting up a subversive activities squad in the state police sailed through the house today with one dissenting vote.

The lone "no" vote was cast by Rep. Sherman L. Loupee (R-Dowagiac) who called the measure "a gestapo bill." He sought to amend the measure by limiting its operation to five years, but was defeated.

Rep. Harry J. Phillips (R-Port Huron) said that the proposed squad was "no more gestapo than the state police kerosene inspection division."

Deferred to Monday

The bill permits the state police commissioner to set up a division to cooperate with all federal and state law enforcement agencies in investigating subversive activities. Files and details of the expenditures of the division may be kept secret. The bill was given immediate effect and sent to the senate.

Today the House did a flip-flop on its original determination to tie the question of four-year terms for state officers and legislators into one package.

By an overwhelming vote members agreed to drop four-year terms for legislators from the proposition to be presented to the people at the November election.

A House Republican caucus this week virtually instructed the committee on constitutional amendments to tie the two proposals together. Observers laid the reversal to diligent spade work by the governor and his aides among legislators.

Salaries of the governor, state officers and legislators are now limited by the constitution.

The house also prepared to vote today on the governor's proposal that the state police commissioner be allowed to set up a "little FBI" to hunt out subversive activities.

Apprehension was registered in the house at the lack of a time

Detroit Bookkeeper
Slugged; New Auto
And $8,000 Stolen

Detroit, April 16 (P)—A 65-year-old bookkeeper was slugged today with a wrench by a thief who escaped with nearly $8,000 and a new automobile from a suburban Ferndale auto salesroom.

The bookkeeper, Douglas Wake, was in critical condition at Mt. Carmel hospital.

Capt. R. H. Lemke of the Ferndale police said Wake was slugged from behind as he opened the safe and was removing the cash box. Other employees found Wake a few minutes later, near collapse on the sidewalk.

A customer's new car, in the garage for service, was missing.

Soft Coal Miners
Hold Back, Waiting
For Lewis Verdict

Pittsburgh, April 16 (P)—One-third of the nation's 400,000 soft coal miners today grimly maintained their protest strike pending the federal court's verdict on John L. Lewis.

The trial of the United Mine Workers chieftain on charges of contempt ended yesterday, except for the final judgment.

Monday morning Judge Alan T. Goldsborough will announce whether Lewis and the UMW are guilty of failing to heed a court order of April 5 to end the 29-day soft coal walkout.

Tried on similar charges in 1946 Lewis was fined $10,000 and the UMW paid $700,000.

The walkout, by which miners enforced their demands for $100-a-month pensions, ended last Monday. An estimated 250,000 miners have returned to the pits, the number growing from day to day.

On the fourth day after the settlement, however, more than one-third of the UMW members still refused to return to their jobs. Thousands of these were in the old, strike-hardened Pennsylvania soft coal region, where the UMW has fought many of its bitter battles.

The attitude of the non-working miners kept railroads and the steel industry on the anxious seat. They wanted to resume full-scale operations as soon as possible—just as soon as they feel assured of an adequate supply of coal.

SECOND BOGOTA
HINTED IN RIOArmy Arsenal Blown Up;
23 Dead, 200 Injured

Rio de Janeiro, April 16 (P)—Federal police declared today the explosion yesterday of an army arsenal, fatal to 23 persons, was intended as the beginning of a Communist plot for a "second Bogota" here May 1.

The police said the Communists intended to kill the Brazilian war minister, Gen. Canrobert Pereira Da Costa, who left the vicinity of the arms depot 50 minutes before the blast.

The official account said Da Costa was saved only by an unexplained delay in the explosion.

Bodies still are sought in the debris of the Deodoro arsenal. The injured are estimated to number 100 to 200.

Twenty-six Communists have been arrested so far, the police statement said, and "directly implicated" in the explosion. The plot was attributed to a high leader of the Communist party, which is outlawed in Brazil. Police withheld his name, but said his arrest was expected soon.

Firemen still are seeking 12 girl employees who were trapped and possibly killed in a nearby textile mill.

Mail Boat Assured
On Detroit River

Cleveland, April 16 (P)—Continuation of mail service for Great Lakes ships on the Detroit River reportedly was assured today.

A delegation of Lake Carriers Association members who went to Washington to protest stoppage of the service June 30 said last night they had the promise of some form of marine postal service at Detroit.

Post office spokesmen said earlier the bids they received for continued operation could not be met.

Senate Confirms

Lansing, April 16 (P)—Six more of Governor Sigler's appointments were confirmed by the Senate Thursday.

The senate approved the appointment of Harry Henderson of Detroit to the state liquor control commission and the reappointment of the following members of the state board of managers of the state fair:

Mrs. Ethel Wright, Bad Axe; Lewis B. Sappington, Romeo; George A. Prescott, Tawas City; Stanley M. Powell, Ionia; and Carl F. Mantey, Caro.

Philippine Republic
Stunned By Death
Of President Roxas

Manila, April 16 (P)—The flag draped body of Manuel Roxas was brought back today to this sorrowing capital of the young Philippines republic he served as president.

The capital, stunned by the 56-year-old Roxas' unexpected death from a heart attack at Clark field last night, awaited the arrival of his successor, Vice President Alpidio Quirino, 57.

Quirino, himself ailing and under a physician's care for high blood pressure, was expected to return by tomorrow morning after breaking off a tour of the central Philippines.

Quirino by radio called a session of the council of state, which consists of cabinet members, former President Sergio Osmeña and former Justice Jose Yulo. He asked it to meet as soon as he arrives.

Secretary of Commerce Placido Mapa told reporters Roxas had been more worried recently by Quirino's health than his own.

Thousands of Filipinos thronged the depot when the funeral train arrived from Clark field, U. S. air base of Manila.

The crowd gasped at the sight of the train—a locomotive pulling several empty freight cars. A gasoline tank car, two third-class carriages containing the presidential guards, and Roxas' air conditioned first class coach.

Mrs. Roxas lifted the flag over the body and kissed the forehead of her husband.

The body lay in state at Malacanang palace, which was closed to all but members of the family, the cabinet and close friends. Quirino served both in the Congress and in the cabinet before the war. When the Japanese came they imprisoned him in Fort Santiago. His wife and three of his five children were bayoneted to death by the Japanese in 1945 during the battle for Manila.

Quirino, who also is foreign minister, has a gloomy world outlook. Correspondents said he told prewar President Sergio Osmeña yesterday at Cebu that another world war "is in danger of breaking out before Christmas. They said he urged Osmeña to emerge from retirement and take an active part in Philippine affairs.

Dispatches from Moscow yesterday said Magidoff planned to leave the U.S.S.R. in the next day or two. He came to this country in 1922 and was graduated from the University of Wisconsin. His mother, Mrs. Jennie Magidoff of New York, said he is an American citizen. Magidoff has served in the Russian capital as correspondent for the National Broadcasting Co.

The state department said Miss Nelson had worked in the American Embassy in 1943-44. Her application indicated she went to Russia in 1936. Her father was still living there. It said her mother was a native of Newberry, Mich.

EUROPEAN UNITY
CHARTER SIGNEDWestern Nations Pledge
To Help Themselves

Paris, April 16 (P)—Sixteen nations and Germany's western zones unanimously adopted today a convention binding themselves into a permanent European organization of economic cooperation.

The nations are those taking part in the European recovery program (E.R.P.), or Marshall plan. The organization is to assure efficient use of the $5,300,000,000 the United States has pledged in the program.

The 28-article, 3,000-word convention was adopted and signed at a conference of foreign ministers and others in the French foreign ministry.

"A strong and prosperous European economy," says the preamble, "will contribute to the maintenance of peace."

The conference unanimously adopted a resolution to send thanks to the U. S. for its "generous response in assisting in Europe in its present critical state."

The document names these contracting powers: Austria, Belgium, Britain, Denmark, France, Greece, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, Norway, The Netherlands, Portugal, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey and the French, British and American zones of Germany.

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 16 (P)—In the first case of its kind here in four years, Leonard Davis, 53, of White Cloud, pleaded guilty yesterday in Federal court to unlawfully possessing a quantity of home-made whisky and whisky mash.

Judge Raymond W. Starr ordered Davis to report for sentence April 29.

Also to be sentenced at the same time is Phillip A. Johnson, former Marquette post office employee, who pleaded guilty to rifling letters.

ON APPEAL BOARD

Lansing, April 16 (P)—Charles Loughheed of Detroit today was appointed by Governor Sigler to a six-year term on the appeal board of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission. His name was submitted to the Senate for confirmation.

MOSCOW SPYING
CHARGES FALSEAmerican No Snooper,
Says U. S. Embassy

Washington, April 16 (P)—U. S. Ambassador Walter Bendell Smith has branded as "false" Soviet charges that Robert Magidoff, an American correspondent, spied for the U. S. Embassy in Moscow.

Smith cabled his denial to the state department after Magidoff had been ordered out by the Soviet government. The newsmen had been accused by Cecilia Nelson, his American-born secretary, of having sent secret military data to this country in official U. S. diplomatic pouches.

Dispatches from Moscow yesterday said Magidoff planned to leave the U.S.S.R. in the next day or two. He came to this country in 1922 and was graduated from the University of Wisconsin. His mother, Mrs. Jennie Magidoff of New York, said he is an American citizen. Magidoff has served in the Russian capital as correspondent for the National Broadcasting Co.

Los Angeles Basks
In 89-Degree Heat

Los Angeles, April 16 (P)—Summer-like weather hit Los Angeles with a record yesterday.

The maximum was 89, the hottest April 15 in the weather bureau annals. It was the warmest here since last Oct. 31. The all-time record for the month was 100 April 23, 1910.

Desert areas were considerably warmer, the Civil Aeronautics Administration station at Indio reporting 103, highest since September.

The newspapers, meantime, featured pictures illustrating five inches of snow in Vermont.

Sea Killer Spared
Gallows in London

London, April 16 (P)—James Camb, ship's steward convicted of killing an actress and pushing her body through a porthole to the sea, was saved from the gallows today.

The government announced his reprieve in view of a House of Commons decision to abolish the death penalty for five years as an experiment to see if that makes any difference in the number of murders.

Camb, 31, now will face a life term for killing actress Eileen Gibson after a love scene in her cabin. Joseph Smith, a gypsy convicted of killing a business man, also drew a reprieve.

Retired General
Dies At Lansing

Lansing, April 16 (P)—General Harry E. Loomis, 71, retired quartermaster general of the Michigan National Guard, died early today following a heart attack here.

General Loomis, a veteran of 50 years of state and federal military service, was stricken last night and died at 1 a. m. today in St. Lawrence hospital.

The cause of the fire was not known. Elmer Hill, who lived near the two-story frame apartment house, said he looked out of the

PAY BOOSTED
UP TO $20,000
FOR GOVERNOREXPENSE FUND OF $12,500 ADDED TO
SALARY

Lansing, April 16 (P)—A move which started out to cut Governor Sigler's $17,500 income to $7,500 a year ended up today as a $2,500 pay raise, up to $20,000 a year.

Upset because Senator Joseph P. Cloon (R-Wakefield) challenged Sigler's $10,000 expense account the Senate yesterday whipped out and passed in 10 minutes a bill to give the governor $12,500 in addition to his regular $7,500 salary.

For the first time in the state's recorded history, the Senate voted the money unanimously to the governor as a "private appropriation for a private purpose."

The money was appropriated to "Kim Sigler, Executive Office, Lansing, Michigan," as a private person, and not as an allowance to a public official.

Senate leaders acted quickly when it appeared that Attorney General Eugene F. Black would rule Sigler's expense account illegal at Cloon's request. Cloon has been feuding with Sigler.

In the midst of a lot of double talk, the leaders apparently gave Cloon a chance to save face, and he did so sarcastically.

Flaw Seen in Bill

They put the bill in at $11,000 for Sigler but warned newsmen to "wait and see what happens."

Senator Harold D. Tripp (R-Allegan) solemnly explained the increase was a "cost of living" bill. Then Cloon amended it to $12,500.

Cloon said "the governor has made the statements that his job is the crummiest in the state. I want it to be the best. I move the amount be raised to $12,500"

Examination Paper
Theft Costs $50
For Lansing Youth

Lansing, April 16 (P)—Bootlegging examination papers to Michigan State college students for $20 a copy cost a Lansing youth a $50 fine in municipal court here yesterday.

Robert Hanel, 21, a former student at the college, was found guilty on simple larceny charges after he admitted he took the papers from a Lansing printing establishment that does work for MSC.

Prosecutor Charles R. MacLean said Hanel admitted peddling two of the examinations, which covered a full year's work in history and biology, for $20 each to some sophomore and junior students.

MacLean said five of the students admitted purchasing one set of the papers. They charged fellow students from $4 to $8 to see the papers, MacLean said.

Tojo War Crimes
Trial Is Receded

Tokyo, April 16 (P)—The lengthy war crimes trial of former Premier Hideki Tojo and 24 other Japanese leaders ended today.

The 11 judges of the International tribunal recessed for an indefinite period to write their judgments. The case began with the indictment against Nippon's war leaders April 29, 1946.

Wakefield, Mich., April 16 (P)—The bodies of two victims were recovered today from the still smoldering ruins of a seven-unit apartment building.

The dead are Peter Trezise, about 26, publisher of the Wakefield News, and Mrs. Ivan Buck, 55, wife of the building caretaker.

Two other persons, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Johnson, suffered severe burns about the face and hands and were taken to Wakefield hospital. Attendants said their conditions were serious.

Trezise's wife, Virginia, suffered minor burns on the face and head but was not hospitalized.

The cause of the fire was not known. Elmer Hill, who lived near the two-story frame apartment house, said he looked out of the

Reserves Borrowed
By Army To Build Up
Garrison In Alaska

By ELTON C. FAY

Washington, April 16 (P)—The Army, without a single combat foot soldier in Alaska today, is borrowing from its mobile reserve to build up the garrison in that northern outpost next door to Russia.

Anti-aircraft and other ground combat units from the West Coast and Hawaii will leave for Alaska shortly "to undergo summer training in conjunction with air units," the Army said.

The effect of this "summer training" will be to bolster the present 7,000-man force now there pending action in Congress on the proposal of Gen. Omar Bradley, Army chief of staff, to expand the permanent garrison to 15,000.

The number of troops to be borrowed from the Hawaiian command and from the 2nd division at Ft. Lewis, Wash., was not disclosed. The Army announcement last night said only that they would establish a "balance" between air and ground forces in Alaska.

The 2nd division is part of the small mobile reserve of some 54,000 troops upon whom the United States counts to bolster overseas forces in event of a sudden emergency.

The Hawaiian command is not considered part of the mobile reserve, but defense for the islands. Troops sent from there for training in Alaska are expected to be anti-aircraft personnel.

The Army's admission that it has no combat troops in the Alaskan command was by indirection.

In announcing the training assignment, the Army statement commented that "at present about 60 per cent of the garrison is air and the remainder Army service troops." Service troops are personnel whose job is to maintain installations, handle supplies, load and unload cargo at ports—but not to fight.

Miami, Fla., April 16 (P)—Seventeen persons have been arrested in the smashing of a ring which the immigration border patrol said smuggled aliens into the United States.

Edwin Dorn, assistant chief of the border patrol here, said those arrested were 12 smuggled aliens, four conspirators and a pilot who allegedly flew the aliens into this county from Cuba.

The pilot, a Miami flight instructor, was listed by Frank Hornyak, in charge of the border patrol office, as Edward William Murphy, 33, also known as T. A. Bass. He has been released in $500 bond.

Peter Chu Twai, Chin Toy and Chin Du Foo, arrested in New York on charges of conspiracy, will be brought here for prosecution, Hornyak said.

Murphy admitted, Hornyak said, that he had made five flights from Cuba to Chicago, Philadelphia and New York, bringing in 19 Chinese and four Europeans, for which he was paid $600 to $1,500 each.

Hornyak said the alleged head of the smuggling ring had not yet been arrested but was under close watch by border patrol agents.

Commissioner Watson B. Miller of Immigration and Naturalization said in Washington the inquiry "may lead to disclosure of other evasions of our immigration laws."

No more than nominal damage was recorded at cities already behind the peak of the flood.

Meteorologist Leroy Stone of the U. S. weather bureau at Huntington, W. Va., added 12 inches to his crest prediction for Point Pleasant and Huntington, W. Va., and Ashland and Greenup, Ky.

But elsewhere the pressure slowly was lifting. The river division here went off the 24-hour-a-day standard "since river conditions are believed to be stabilized."

Farther downstream, where the muddy flood waters crept into lawlands, the bustle of evacuation hit peaks. More than 1,000 persons in the Louisville, Ky., area, including New Albany and Jeffersonville, Ind., across the river, sought temporary quarters. City crews worked throughout the night in Louisville.

No announcement about Father Nunez' departure came from diplomatic representatives helping to arrange a peace, nor from the government.

Fighting in the six-week-old civil war was reported slackened on all fronts.

Jamestown, N. Y., April 16 (P)—Lightning killed a cow George Boozel was milking in a barn.

Boozel was pinned under the cow's body while fire started by the bolt spread.

His employer, Thomas Williams, came to the rescue and Boozel escaped without injury.

Greek Army Opens
Spring Offensive

Athens, April 16 (P)—A reliable informant said today the Greek army has launched its long planned spring offensive with three divisions of troops—20,000 to 30,000 men—against the Communist guerrillas.

CALLED SPY—Spying on her former boss, Robert Magidoff, (above), National Broadcasting Corporation Moscow correspondent, secretary Cecilia Nelson finds that he is doing some furtive peeking through the Iron Curtain—or so she says. In letter to government newspaper Izvestia, the Michigan girl who formerly worked at the U. S. Embassy, charges Magidoff with spying on the Soviet Union. The story has been branded a falsehood by Magidoff's employers in America.

He is the chairman of a House committee set up to look into the background of the destructive Bogota uprising—particularly to learn whether this country's central intelligence agency (CIA) had warned Marshall there might be trouble in the Colombian capital.

But Rep. Clarence J. Brown (R-Ohio) saw the situation in a different light.

"Why," he asked, "did they (department officials) go blindly into this conference knowing there might be trouble? Why did they permit themselves and the country to be put in a ticklish position?"

Brown said he wants the answers to those questions and will try to get them at hearings to be set later.

He is the chairman of a House committee set up to look into the background of the destructive Bogota uprising—particularly to learn whether this country's central intelligence agency (CIA) had warned Marshall there might be trouble in the Colombian capital.

Yesterday's hearing brought evidence of a number of such warnings. Afterwards the state department volunteered that it had been fully aware of the situation itself and that Marshall had commented "saltily" the American republics were not going to be intimidated by Communists or anybody else.

But the thing that stood out in sharpest focus was the double admonition in Congress that trouble may be ahead in this country.

First Rear Adm. R. H. Hillenkoetter, head of the CIA, told Brown's committee that "conditions in Colombia are similar to those in the United States except that they are advanced a couple of years."

Hillenkoetter said Jorge Gaitan, the Colombian Liberal leader, whose assassination touched off the revolution, was a "like Henry Wallace in our country"—a man who played along "with the extreme left and the Communists."

Wallace was not immediately

Recount Starts Today For Council Election

A recount of the ballots in the April 5 municipal election got under way at the council chambers in the city hall this afternoon.

The council voted unanimously Thursday night to proceed with the recount after studying a petition presented by Thomas X. Quinn and a counter-petition presented by Nevin J. Reynolds, each requesting a complete recount of all ballots for all candidates in the council election April 5.

City Attorney Denis McGinn has ruled that the state laws bar interested candidates from voting on any matters affecting the recount. Thus Councilmen Peter Logan and Marvin Coon, two holdover members of the council, will serve as the recount board and will decide all matters that may come in dispute.

To prevent the development of an impasse that could result by virtue of conflict in the opinions of the two councilmen, Logan and Coon have agreed to accept a majority ruling of the three-member city board of canvassers to settle any such dispute that may arise. Members of the city board of canvassers are City Attorney Denis McGinn, City Clerk Carl Anderson and City Treasurer Belle Harvey.

Rules of Procedure
Rules of procedure were agreed upon at a meeting of the recount board, members of the city board of canvassers and attorneys for the petitioning candidates this morning.

The manual of instructions to election inspectors and election officials was adopted as standards for determining the validity of ballot markings and state election and registration laws were also adopted for the purpose of determining matters affected by such laws.

It further was agreed by the recount board that one member of the council will have charge of the pack of ballots being counted and will pass each ballot individually to the other member of the recount board for calling the votes. Attorneys for the two petitioning candidates will be given an opportunity to present objections, if any, before the votes are called and tallied.

In addition, each candidate will be permitted to have one teller and one watcher. The official tellers will be Wellington Hinze and Charles Schmidt, two city hall employees.

All of the ballots of a precinct will be counted and decisions made on disputed ballots before the recount board proceeds with the next precinct. The ballot boxes will be opened in numerical order, starting with Precinct No. 1.

EHS Wins 3 Firsts; Manistique One In District Forensics

Three students of Escanaba senior high school and one of Manistique high school took first places in the district forensic contest held in Escanaba yesterday afternoon and evening.

James Moran of Escanaba won first place in extemporaneous speaking with a speech on America's need for air power. Second place was won by Shirley Rosich of Manistique, speaking on the Marshall plan. Helen Canuelle and Margaret Hult, of Gladstone, competed with the winners.

In oratorical declamation first place was won by Joan Sheahan of Manistique. Second place was won by Margo Viergever, also of Manistique. They competed with Janis Bergman of Escanaba, Betty Ohman and Dollie Olson of Gladstone and Lorian Sundelius of Escanaba.

Joan Frasher was awarded first place in dramatic declamation and Marie Sundblad, of Gladstone, second place. Other contestants were Pat Bolger, of Gladstone; Delores Toyra, of Manistique; John Van Enkevort, of Escanaba, and Dan VanEyk, of Manistique.

Harold Sundelius, of Escanaba, won first place in original oration and second place was won by Marilyn Bredahl, of Gladstone.

In both original oratory and dramatic declamation, first and second place winners were tied. Judges employed the percentage averages awarded to each to break place rank deadlocks. Sundelius had a percentage of 95 2/3 and Miss Bredahl, 94. Miss Frasher had a percentage total of 94 2/3 and Miss Sundblad, 93 1/3.

First place winners in this district contest will compete in a regional tournament, comprised of five districts, in Gladstone in May. At that time, all first place winners will receive Webster collegiate dictionaries from the Detroit Free Press.

City's Fire Protection Adequate, Says Aronson

In response to questions by Mayor Robert E. LeMire, recently elected to the city council, City Manager A. V. Aronson last night said he believes Escanaba has adequate fire fighting equipment and that its water supply and pressure for fighting fires is satisfactory.

Mayor LeMire directed a series of questions to the city manager, with the observation that he had received "many complaints" that the city's fire protection is inadequate. In response to these questions the city manager reported:

Escanaba now has the lowest fire insurance rate that it is possible for it to obtain. This classification for the city would not change no matter how much new equipment the city purchased.

The city's two pumper trucks have little mileage on them and have a capacity of 750 gallons a minute. The truck at the North Escanaba station was purchased in 1925, the one in the central station in 1923. The new trucks that might be purchased would have no greater pumping capacity; but they would have four wheel brakes. "They might go faster and stop quicker, that's all," he said.

One new fire truck would cost the city $18,000.

Each year the city buys new fire hose, and it recently received some new aluminum ladders for which it had waited nearly a year.

Mayor LeMire said: "Father Maier (Rev. Fr. Sebastian Maier, pastor of St. Ann church) told me that there was a terrible lack of water pressure at the St. Ann fire."

City Manager Aronson replied that there was no lack of water at the fire, but there was an air leak in one of the truck pumps. The pumps have all been overhauled since then, he said.

Aronson further explained that firemen regulate the amount of pressure at the truck, and one hose may shoot a short stream for spraying at lower heights, while another has high pressure and force. He rapped "curbstone firemen who criticize something they know nothing about," and invited Mayor LeMire to consult the fire chief and the fire department concerning water pressures and equipment if he desired.

At the Viau fire there was "lots of pressure" and at the Rubens' fire there was no lack of pressure. Such criticism as was voiced of the water pressure in the city is "unwarranted," the city manager said.

He explained that the water pressure in the mains is maintained at an almost constant 65 pounds. It is the pumpers on the fire trucks that step up the pressure to throw water from the fire hoses; and high pressure in the mains is not necessary.

FORD RIVER HAS WELL PROBLEM

Water Supply Reported Contaminated

Ford River township's water utility problems were discussed in typical New England town meeting fashion at the township hall last evening.

The natural spring well, which serves 71 owners of summer cottages and permanent homes on M-35 and in the village of Ford River, reveals evidence of contamination. Adding to the difficulties is the fact that the water supply has been running low since January, and Ford River township is faced with the probability of having to drill a new and deeper well. But this would require money, all of which presents another problem. The township's public utility, offering water service at a flat rate of $10 per year, has been a losing proposition.

"We've got the bull by the tail, and we can't let go," explained Supervisor Chester Peak to the assembled group of cottage owners from Escanaba and Ford River township taxpayers. "We are obligated to furnish good water to you folks, but the water in the spring hasn't passed state inspection. We tried to chlorinate the water last winter, but it didn't work out satisfactorily. We think that probably it would be cheaper to put in a new well than to install chlorination equipment."

"We're thinking now that we'll have to meter the system," Supervisor Peak continued. "We'll have to get at least twice as much for the water as we have been. We have been spending money out of the general fund to keep the well system going, and we doubt whether we have a legal right to use the township funds for this purpose."

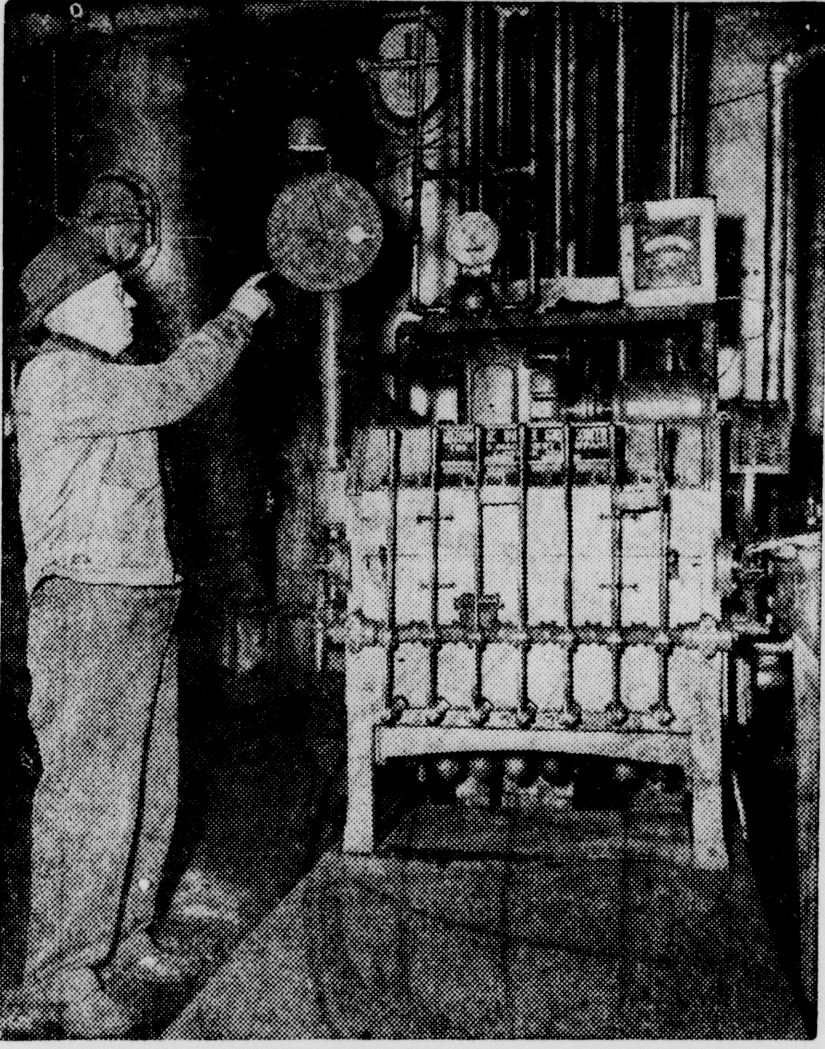

Test Well Recommended

The members of the Ford River township board sat around a small table, while the cottage owners and other interested citizens were seated on benches lined up along the walls of the large room. Besides Supervisor Peak, seated at the table were: Roland Ekstrom, clerk; Hilmer Sodermark, treasurer; William Temple and Clarence Nordquist, members of the board. William Henrikson, county sanitarian, stepped to the table when the meeting opened and presented a letter from O. E. McGuire, Upper Peninsula engineer of the Michigan health department, which stated that the contamination probably is due to the shallowness of the spring from which the water is obtained. He recommended the drilling of a 5 or 6-inch diameter test well to determine whether a more adequate supply is available.

Henrikson told the meeting that 29 samples of the Ford River water supply had been taken, and 18 showed evidences of contamination. He added that the 60 per cent contamination is far above the 10 per cent minimum standard set by the U. S. Public Health Service. Upon questioning, Henrikson read Act 98 of the Public Acts of 1913, which states that it is the responsibility of the state board of health to investigate public water supplies. If a disease epidemic should occur and be traceable to the contaminated water, the victims could sue Ford River township for damages, Henrikson added. He pointed out a similar situation had occurred at Big Bay, where 17 persons filed suit for damages.

Much Water Wasted
Supervisor Peak said there is a great wastage of water in the winter because some cottagers neglect to shut off the water to prevent freezing. A number of pipes burst during the winter, and it is estimated that two-thirds of the water produced is wasted during the season.

"We can tell there is a great waste of water," said Peak, "because our electric bill for running the pump is three times as much in AUTOMATIC CONTROLS — Automatic controls have been installed in the city gas plant and preliminary tests have indicated the controls will materially increase the efficiency of the gas plant. Production has been sharply increased as a result of the automatic operation. The cost of coal and oil used in the manufacture of gas also has been reduced on a per-thousand-cubic feet basis. Less labor is now employed at the gas plant since the installation of the automatic controls.

winter as in summer."

The supervisor reported he had found a number of bursted pipes at cottages. At one place, the wood shed was filled with ice, while at another the water had sprayed nearby trees and frozen into icicles.

Entering the discussion again, Henrikson said that the contamination might be due to the fact that the wastage is necessary to pump water from a larger surrounding area, which is mostly swampland. Someone suggested that if meters were installed the wastage would stop and the present spring water supply would be adequate. Cottage owners indicated they would be willing to pay more money for a satisfactory water service.

The discussion ended with the township board's announcement that it would study the problem further and perhaps enlist the aid of a consulting engineer.

Taxi Companies Ask License Regulation

The issuance by the city of licenses to operate taxis or cabs in Escanaba should be restricted to the needs of the community, according to a petition submitted to the city council last night by the Escanaba Taxi Service and the Delta Cab company.

The petition proposed that the city revise its ordinance regulating cab operation and that no additional licenses be issued unless it was proved that they were required for public convenience and necessity.

Council received the petition and will consider its proposals. Meanwhile, all new applications for cab licenses will be held in abeyance.

It was the contention of the petitioners that the present cab ordinance should be reviewed and revised. They held that the ordinance is "insufficient" because it

Council Receives Recommendation of Recreation Board

The Escanaba recreation commission last night through its representative, Mrs. Stack Smith, presented to the city council a recommended list of recreation improvements estimated to cost a total of $20,000. The report was accepted and the council instructed the manager to consider the requests when he makes up the city budget for the ensuing fiscal year.

The matter of imposing penalties on liquor licensees in Escanaba who are convicted of liquor law violations was discussed by the council. Mayor Robert E. LeMire questioned whether the city has "legal authority" to impose license suspensions.

Councilmen Sam Wickman and Peter Logan said the policy was established several years ago in an effort to curb licensees who sold or served liquor to minors.

The question was referred to the city attorney for an opinion. Council also gave first reading to a uniform building code proposed for the city by the planning commission.

Cancer Fund Drive Total Now $967.50

Contributions to the Delta county Cancer Society in its April fund campaign today totaled $967.50, according to a report from Carl Wickman, Cancer Society treasurer.

The quota for the county is $3,507 and John Anthony, Cancer Fund campaign chairman, is confident the goal will be reached. One-half of the contributions remain in the county, and the remainder goes to finance cancer cure research at the national level.

To the Bedouin family the camel is transportation, milk, meat and sometimes clothing.

does not protect the public, and does allow uncontrolled cab licensing, with the result that the community could have more cabs than it needs. The petitioners said they do not "propose a monopoly" for the present operators.

UN Cannot Settle Russ-U. S. Dispute, Says Mrs. Preuss

The United Nations can not iron out the Russian United States conflict at the present time, said Mrs. Lawrence Preuss, president of the Ann Arbor League of Women Voters, in lectures at Manistique and Escanaba, under the University of Michigan Extension lecture series in World Affairs.

Mrs. Preuss, who worked with the state department three years, and who was present at the San Francisco conference and Dumbarton Oaks, substituted for her husband, Professor Preuss, of the U. of M. political science faculty. Professor Preuss was recently dismissed from University hospital.

"All that the UN and its security council can do is offer the mechanism whereby the nations of the world may cooperate in preservation of the peace and harmonious living," declared Mrs. Preuss. "The United Nations is a primitive form of world organization and was founded out of the anarchy of World War II, when most nations realized the necessity for cooperation, especially among the five great powers." Mrs. Preuss told a large audience in the music room of Escanaba Junior high school.

"The United Nations, through its security council, has been successful in non-political disputes and has offered many economic and trade settlements. However, in world politics they have been continually blocked by the veto of one nation."

Russia used the veto privilege in the United Nations for the 24th time when she recently vetoed the resolution to admit Italy to the UN. The United Nations charter, said Mrs. Preuss, was prepared for the most part by the State department of the United Nations, prior to the unsuccessful Dumbarton Oaks conference.

Mrs. Preuss declared that two problems which the United Nations should work on are: resolutions for control of the atomic bomb, and for disarmament. Senator Ferguson, of Michigan, has recently submitted proposals in regard to these, but as yet no action has been taken.

Chief use of the veto power by Russia has been in the prevention of admission of other nations to the United Nations, said Mrs. Preuss. Any resolution introduced must carry a 2-3 vote plus unanimous consent of the five major powers. This provision in the charter arose in its conception, because complete cooperation by world powers was essential and because many peoples of the world were afraid that the United States would not join.

Russia has long feared encirclement by capitalist nations, and realized that this would happen if she did not join the UN.

In summary, Mrs. Preuss stated that there was a great deal of difference between action on the part of the majority of world nations to curb an aggressor and a war such as the last one.

The Meanest Man

THE person or persons who stole the sturgeon from a fish pool at the state fish hatchery in Thompson rightfully deserves all of the scorn that is being heaped upon him by conservationists and nature lovers.

Sturgeon is the largest species of fish inhabiting Michigan waters. For many years the species has been protected in this state. For thousands of persons who have visited the hatchery at Thompson or attended the Upper Peninsula State Fair at Escanaba, the sturgeon that was recently stolen was the only fish of this species that they had ever seen. It was a popular attraction at Thompson and always drew a crowd of admirers during its annual week's stay at the U. P. Fair. The fish was at least 25 years old and probably considerably older than that and yet it was merely an adolescent in the life span of a sturgeon. These huge fish are said to live as much as 100 years.

The person who stole the sturgeon from the pool at Thompson apparently planned his mischief well, carefully timing his thievery while the night watchman was making an inspection trip a considerable distance from the pond.

We would like to think that the big fish gave his captor a bad time of it while he was being captured but we doubt it. He (or was it she?) was a friendly cuss who never harmed anyone.

Stanley Schust, who was custodian of the sturgeon by virtue of his job as regional supervisor of the fish division, calls the thief "the meanest man alive." It is an apt description of a man who would rob thousands of persons of their opportunity to see a good specimen of this rapidly diminishing species of fish.

We hope that the sturgeon flesh gives the thief a good case of indigestion.

Deal In Coal Strike?

MORE details regarding the settlement of the coal strike are now coming to light and they do not make a very pleasant story. There are, for instance, evidences that Senator Bridges may have arranged a deal with John L. Lewis, in cooperation with Speaker Martin, before he was appointed the so-called neutral member of the miners' pension and welfare board of trustees. And there are further evidences to indicate that Speaker Martin stepped into the breach to bypass the Taft-Hartley law and to gain political favor from Lewis and his powerful miners' union.

Credence is given to these reports by unofficial disclosures that the union is now preparing to demand not only another substantial wage boost when the present contract expires June 30, but also a sharp increase in the royalty payments for the pension and welfare funds. Reports now circulating indicate that the union may seek as much as 40c per ton royalty payments for pensions, instead of the 10c per ton now being paid.

If so, this would readily explain why Senator Bridges yielded so completely to the demand of the coal miners union for the $100 per month pension plan. Operators and actuarial figures indicate conclusively that the fund already created and the 10c royalty are vastly insufficient to meet the heavy disbursements that will be required under the $100 per month pension plan payments to retired miners.

In any case the settlement of the coal strike completely failed to get at the root of the unwholesome authority of Lewis to cut off the flow of economic production in this country at will. On the contrary the settlement enhanced his power because it resulted in almost a total victory for the coal miners' boss.

Bribery Case Ends

THE state's bribery conspiracy charge against former legislators and others involved in alleged bribery attempts to defeat the anti-branch banking bill in 1941 will be dropped Monday because the state's star witness, Charles F. Hemans, refuses to testify in the case.

The sordid deals were revealed by a grand jury investigation conducted several years ago at which time Hemans talked freely under a promise of immunity. The charges against 19 defendants developed from Hemans' testimony but after the indictments were issued Hemans fled the state to avoid testifying in the trials. He is now serving a four year term in a federal prison at Lewisburg, Pa., not because of his connection with the bribery conspiracy, but because he violated a federal law in fleeing the state to escape testifying in the case.

It is regrettable that Hemans has chosen to seal his lips at a time when he could do a good service to the people of Michigan by helping to bring to justice those people, many of them in positions of public trust, who prostituted their oath of office and their obligations as citizens for personal gain.

Even though the defendants may escape legal punishment for their parts in the bribery conspiracy, they stand accused before the bar of public opinion. Moreover, the grand jury investigation brought forth the necessity for constant vigilance in the fight for clean, democratic government.

The revelations already made at least should act as a deterrent to others who may be willing to sell out their constituents and their personal pride for money.

A WISE CARPENTERS' UNION (Milwaukee Journal)

The AFL Carpenters' Union of Warren, Ohio, showed labor statesmanship when it decided to postpone for 90 days its demand for higher wages.

The union in this period will ask for co-operation from contractors, supply dealers and other craftsmen in a campaign to check the local wage-price spiral. Six room frame houses are already costing from $12,000 to $15,000 in Warren, which is far too high in any man's language. The effect has been to price construction out of the market, which means, of course, pricing the carpenters out of jobs. A raise would only make this worse.

The Warren carpenters would rather see construction thriving, so that they would have work. They have merely faced a fundamental which, as sure as day, many unions are going to have to face in the future—and it may be the near future.

Labor has every right to maintain that others must face it, too. There is no reason why labor alone should do so. But somebody has to make the start. The Warren carpenters are to be commended for making the first move.

NEWSPRINT FROM ALASKA (Milwaukee Journal)

A preliminary report on the feasibility of producing newsprint in Alaska declares that, if private capital is available, it would be practical to operate about six mills with an average annual production of 200,000 tons each. The paper could be produced, the report says, at reasonable cost.

Since this production would equal about 40 per cent of the highly developed Canadian newsprint industry and would meet the total annual needs of some 30 newspapers with the size and circulation of the Milwaukee Journal, it seems clear that studies of the Alaskan possibilities should be continued.

There is a continuing shortage of newsprint in this country.

If Alaskan resources can be economically utilized to add to world production of newsprint, certainly development of mills should be encouraged. These unwished and unwelcome but necessary curtailment in circulation strike at a function that is vital to democracy—the dissemination of information.

LAW ENFORCEMENT (Milwaukee Journal)

When John W. Roach, chief of the state's beverage tax division, described tavern conditions in Brown county as bad, Dist. Atty. Easten broadly hinted in effect that Roach was interfering where he was not wanted. The district attorney said he had had few complaints from within the county and that he was not impressed by evidence produced by Mr. Roach.

It is gratifying now to find the Green Bay Press-Gazette entering the fray with news stories and an editorial which cite the facts. The Green Bay paper says:

"It seems quite obvious that it is the policy of the district attorney's office to prosecute only those cases which are brought to it with the evidence complete. Further, there is the fair implication that it is the policy to seek the minimum punishment for most offenders. . . Anyone who is casually interested in keeping tavern operators within the law can see that the one punishment that can succeed is revocation. . . Instead of using revocation as a weapon, the law enforcement officials of Brown county appear to do everything in their power to avoid using it."

Sledding is popular again—from coast to coast.

The man who thinks he is the whole cheese usually is the offensive kind.

WHAT IS MEANT BY "WEBSTER'S DICTIONARY"

From comments which occur frequently in my mail, it is plain that many people have the idea that there is only one "Webster's dictionary," and that Noah Webster wrote it under some sort of divine guidance.

Without going into the merits or demerits of any American dictionary, and certainly without championing the cause of any dictionary publishing house, I believe that it behooves me, as a professional commentator on all phases of our American language, to bring to light a few facts about dictionaries.

First of all, there are many so-called "Webster's" dictionaries on the market; but Noah Webster had no more to do with writing or compiling them than Fibber McGee.

Second, Noah Webster did publish a small dictionary in 1806; and a larger two-volume American Dictionary of the English Language, in 1828. But that ends the matter as far as Webster himself is concerned. He died in 1843.

After Webster's death, a Springfield, Mass., publishing house, G. and C. Merriam, bought the publication rights of Webster's dictionary. They revised and enlarged it in 1847, and have since revised and published what is called the Merriam-Webster dictionaries: Webster's New International Dictionary, Second Edition, and

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington. — The power that John L. Lewis exercises over an essential industry has been demonstrated once again. He has reduced the nation's stockpiles of coal almost to zero and he has cost the miners approximately $100,000,000 in wages.

Whether mining will be resumed at full scale is still a question. The contempt case against Lewis may persuade his more fanatical followers that they owe it to him to continue to stay out.

There is no mystery in the source of Lewis' power. He has convinced the mass of the miners—and with a large body of fact to back him up—that he is the only person who has done anything to improve their wages and working conditions. Mining is a hard, hazardous occupation, and miners throughout the world are prone to develop almost tribal loyalties.

On the basis of this loyalty, Lewis has built an organization which he runs with dictatorial powers. Gangster methods have been used in the past to suppress opposition. Power, as Lord Acton noted, is a heady wine, and absolute power is a temptation to corruption of the spirit that few men in history have been able to resist.

So we see the great John L. playing Republican politics in an attempt to find a way out of his latest enactment of the familiar drama, "We Against The Nation." Speaker Joseph Martin has taken the play from Lewis and he is given the credit for "settling" the world stoppage.

This may prove to be a dubious honor. It could not have come about if Lewis had not willed it. And he has a habit of collecting for political favors, sometimes at the most embarrassing moments. Moreover, in the past he has proved a doubtful political ally. When it serves his purposes, Lewis can shift with remarkable speed.

One of his most effective public appeals is on the issue of mine safety. Recently the United Mine Workers Journal urged the need for a federal law enforcing standards of safety.

DISASTER AT CENTRALIA
Ever since the Centralia, Ill., disaster which took 111 lives, the need for a federal law to enforce minimum safety standards has been urged. Following that disaster, Congress passed a law calling on the Bureau of Mines in the Department of the Interior to report quarterly on how the individual states were living up to safety standards.

Each state has its own safety laws. The Bureau of Mines, a federal agency, has the power to inspect coal mines in the states but it cannot enforce changes which would reduce the hazards in the mines. This is a perfect example of how, with power divided between state and federal governments, it is impossible to fix responsibility.

The other day the third quarterly report was sent to Congress by the Bureau of Mines. It showed that nearly half of the violations of safety codes were uncorrected. Specifically, on the basis of 949 reports, the bureau noted 12,786 violations and indicated that nothing had been done to correct 6,600 of these.

Standards of enforcement vary widely from state to state, Pennsylvania and Colorado, for example, have a good record. In Pennsylvania state mine inspectors are under Civil Service and they are paid more than federal mine inspectors.

In Illinois the inspectors are political appointees. Investigation of the Centralia disaster plainly showed how politics had interfered with safety enforcement.

STATES' RIGHTS AGAIN
At this point, of course, you get the familiar states' rights arguments. It is a powerful shield for careless companies that would be required by a federal statute to live up to the standards of the states with the best records.

Speaker Martin is a strong advocate of states' rights. So are most of the conservative Republicans in Senate and House who stand out against any change of any kind. They inveigh against the iniquity of the federal government prying into what is the business of the individual states.

In this light Lewis' choice of Martin to make the play for peace in the coal fields has an odd look. The moral is, I suppose, that one must never look for consistency in the swiftly shifting play of power politics. Absolute power is a law unto itself.

But the miner who goes down into a mine that he knows to be full of danger must sometimes wonder a little. In spite of his dogged loyalty to his leader, he must be a little puzzled to find himself in the camp of the states' righters committed to keeping the federal government from snooping.

Webster's Collegiate Dictionary, an abridged volume.

But the G. and C. Merriam Company does not hold exclusive right to the name "Webster's" as applied to dictionaries. However, other publishers who put out "Webster's" dictionaries are required by law to print a notice in their dictionaries to the effect that, "This dictionary is not published by the original publishers of Webster's Dictionary or by their successors."

The purpose of this article is to emphasize that one should not invest in a dictionary simply because it has "Webster" or "Webster's" somewhere in its title. Remember the Latin warning: caveat emptor—"Let the buyer beware!" Or, better still, heed the advice of the Better Business Bureau: "Before you invest—investigate!"

What is an infinitive verb? Mr. Colby's leaflet, C-17, explains clearly and also gives examples of the split infinitive.

MILK TO DRINK—There were only 275 dealers in raw milk in the state of Michigan in 1946, and fewer than that last year. This year, after July 1, 1948, there will be no raw milk dealers operating in the state—except in Manistique, and perhaps in one or two other communities that have voted to permit the sale of raw milk in their communities.

Dunathan

For after July 1, 1948, a state law will require the pasteurization of all milk offered for sale directly to the consumer. This means that all milk sold after the above date must be pasteurized—except where the majority of the people of a community vote to make their community an exception to the state law.

WATCH FOR IT—For your health, the health of your children, and in the interest of public health, ask for and drink only pasteurized milk.

The American Medical Association's magazine "Hygiene" reported more than 10 years ago: "Raw milk continues to be sold because the public demands it, basing their choice on certain prejudiced ideas of taste. Their ideas should not be allowed to stand in the way of safety from undulant fever and other infections spread by milk."

"Pasteurization is recommended as a universal practice in standard milk ordinance prepared by the U. S. Public Health Service and endorsed by the Conference of State and Provincial Health Authorities of North America. The American Public Health Association and the American Child Health Association stand unreservedly for pasteurization."

"The American Medical Association has passed a resolution supporting the public health authorities in their fight for safer milk."

PUBLIC DEMAND—Because of the health threat to be found in the consumption of unpasteurized milk, there has been a growing public demand for pasteurized milk throughout the nation.

In Michigan last year more than 99 per cent of all the milk sold directly to the consumer was pasteurized. Not to comply with a law, but to meet the demand of the consumer for safe milk. The pasteurization law is necessary, however, because there are still raw milk dealers who can and do sell milk from uninspected herds, and there are folks who will purchase milk without asking whether it has been pasteurized. For people are so accustomed to receiving only pasteurized milk that they take this health protection for granted.

MILK AS FOOD—Milk is an excellent food. It is a cheap source of energy, a good muscle builder, a good tooth and bone builder. It is a highly concentrated food and an excellent source of vitamin A and riboflavin, and it is highly digestible. Health authorities recommend that normal children should consume one quart of milk a day, and adults a pint.

AND DISEASE CARRIER—We are not trying to frighten you or "ruin" the dairy industry—but milk can also transmit to you such diseases as tuberculosis, typhoid fever, scarlet fever, diphtheria, Escanaba—Dedication of the Bonifas Memorial building, the gift of the late William Bonifas, to St. Joseph parish, will be held Sunday, April 24, it was announced today by Rev. Fr. Edward Leary. The ceremonies will open with a Pontifical high mass by Most Rev. Joseph C. Plagens, bishop of Marquette and Sault Ste. Marie.

Munising—Cadman Prout, instructor in the public schools of Deerfield, Mich., is visiting his parents, Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Prout.

Escanaba—Miss Gertrude Grabowski, a senior in Northwestern University, is visiting here with her mother, Mrs. E. A. Grabowski. Manistique—Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Maitland and son Ronald have left for Marquette where they will visit Shirley Maitland who is a patient in St. Luke's hospital.

Twenty Years Ago
Escanaba—Firemen were called out yesterday morning to extinguish a hall and closet blaze at the home of Mrs. Lydia Knutson, 1515 Ludington street.

Manistique—Wallace MacNaughton, of Green Bay, is visiting with his mother, Mrs. Edith MacNaughton, who is confined to her home with a fractured leg.

Gladstone—Richard Heric has left for Detroit where he plans to make his home. Escanaba—Mr. and Mrs. Bert Farrell, who were called here by the death of his father, Theodore Farrell, have returned to their home in New York City.

septic sore throat, and undulant fever.

Undulant fever is the most widespread of any of the diseases named. The illness is difficult to diagnose. Many people are ill of it who only feel worn out, irritable and depressed, and who may think they are just "nervous cases."

Last year there were 303 reported undulant fever cases in Michigan, with a total of 1,779 cases since Jan. 1, 1942. The disease is rarely fatal to humans but its treatment may require long periods of time. Authorities say that the number of reported cases represent only one-tenth of the actual number of persons ill of undulant fever. In Michigan, therefore, it is estimated there are now 5,000 persons who have the disease without recognizable symptoms.

PASTEURIZATION—The state law defines pasteurization as subjecting milk "to a temperature of not lower than 142 degrees Fahrenheit for not less than 30 minutes, after which it shall be promptly cooled to a temperature of 50 degrees Fahrenheit or lower," or stepping up the temperature to not less than 160 degrees for not less than 15 seconds, and then cooling.

The milk does not boil. Its taste is unaltered. Pasteurization does kill the harmful disease germs.

It is necessary, however, that pasteurization be done properly if it is to give protection.

Pasteurization should be combined with precautions in the production of milk to assure maximum protection. Herds should be tested periodically, and the production of the milk should be under clean conditions, and the persons who handle the cows and the milk should be in good health.

Good milk plus pasteurization is assurance that you will receive all of the healthful benefits and none of the possible dangerous diseases that milk may transmit.

New York, (P)—The oldtime "free lunch" is back—at least it has one foot in the barroom door. It is coming back the hard way, one street at a time. So far it has been seen here chiefly in poor men's stork clubs along the bowery and Third avenue.

Rat cheese and salami sandwiches now bloom again in scattered bars in the shadow of the "el" like spring flowers poking up through old snow. And barflies—excuse me, gentlemen with a dime—are greeting them with glad cries. In the Tonier establishments even the pickle is back.

The new free lunch is only a morsel of its old robust self. But its comeback on Third avenue is significant. Why? Because Third avenue is to the elbow-bending gentry what the Aberdeen Proving Ground is to artillery—a testing field that sets the trend.

In the bars along this noisy thoroughfare where roaring overhead "el" trains make conversation a muscular feat, Park avenue comes to ogie "the characters." "The characters" like to ogie right back.

Fads that become popular here often set the pattern for the town—spread one way by "the characters" and the other by the penthouse "swells." This may spell a new future for the free lunch.

Time was when the free lunch was big enough to give a harvest hand the colic.

Remember? For a nickel beer a hungry citizen of good standing could waddle over to a counter creaking under plates stacked with roast beef, baked ham, boiled ham, oysters, steamed kidneys, three kinds of cheese, "hardboiled eggs, lunch meats, pickles, relish, stacked bread and huge slices of raw white onion, fragrant of Bermuda."

In the classier joints a burly bartender with a "keep off" look stood guard to shoo customers with run-down heels away from the trough.

What happened to the "free lunch?"

"What happened to it?" said one bartender. "They just ate it all up. Too many people got to thinking saloons were boarding houses."

Others say it was buried with prohibition. It didn't die entirely, however. It survived in anemic form in the present cocktail hour custom of serving canapés. These one-bite-and-they're-all-gone sandwiches are so tiny that a big man can lose one in a hollow tooth.

These revolting delicacies, consumed more in sorrow than in anger, are blamed by some elderly bartenders as the real cause of increasing jitter among their unsteady clients.

"They're too small to support a vitamin," said one gloomily. "And what's in 'em—little bitty fish in eel, stuff that looks and tastes like toothpaste, cheese that don't even have a smell, and eggs that come out of a sturgeon instead of a hen. No wonder people get the shakes."

But if the free lunch makes a real comeback the canapés will be cut out—the Hors D'Oeuvres will have had their hour. This will be true in the homes as well as in the bars.

Whether she wants or not, a hostess will have to serve her cocktail guests king-sized past-rami sandwiches instead of em-bellished minnows. That'll be the day!

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—A lot of people have wondered where Harold Stassen's campaign expenses were coming from.

Pearson

The ex-Minnesota governor, not a wealthy man, has spent the last two years touring the length and breadth of the USA, with campaign headquarters set up in several states. Naturally, this takes money. The matter of who is putting up the money is important to the voting public.

Most of Stassen's backers, it can be revealed, are blue-chip businessmen, including some of his old Minnesota neighbors. Several of the group, it should be noted, have progressive ideas and enjoy excellent relations with labor. Here are the chief Minnesota men behind Stassen:

Henry E. Atwood, president, First National Bank, Minneapolis.

Julian B. Baird, president, First National Bank, St. Paul.

Harry A. Bullis, chairman of the board, General Mills, Inc.

Edw. B. Cosgrove, president, Minnesota Valley Canning Co.

Donald D. Davis, president, Minnesota and Ontario Paper Co.

Daniel G. Gaaney, president, Josten Manufacturing Co.

Jay C. Hormel, chairman of the board, Geo. A. Hormel & Co.

W. L. McKnight, president, Minnesota Mining & Manufacturing Co.

John S. Pillsbury, chairman of the board, Pillsbury Mills, Inc.

UNDERGROUND ACTIVITIES

A commerce department employee was being quizzed by a loyalty investigator about a young lawyer in the same apartment.

"Does he belong to any underground organizations?" asked the investigator.

"Yes."

"Which one?" the investigator leaned forward eagerly.

"The National Speleological Society."

"What do its members believe in?" asked the puzzled probe.

"They specialize in the study of caves and underground caverns."

Note—During the war, the lawyer being investigated had made a study of U. S. caves for the war department with a view to using them for storage in case of enemy bombardment.

UNPARTITIONING PALESTINE

As delegates to the United Nations assemble in New York to consider unpartitioning Palestine, most of them will have in the back of their minds certain backstage things which happened when they first voted for partition.

For instance, the Liberian government, largely dependent on the United States and the Firestone Rubber company, last winter got a phone call from Harvey Firestone asking that Liberia vote for partition. Haiti, also economically dependent on the USA, got a call from Adolph Berle, former assistant secretary of state, now adviser to the president of Haiti.

The French ambassador, following hints from state department friends, urged his government to vote for partition. The Chinese ambassador did likewise. Mexico, New Zealand, Colombia—all were discreetly pressured from Washington during the U. N. debate in November.

And having been told how to vote on Palestine last year, these nations now don't like to be told to vote the other way. They consider themselves sovereign states, not puppets voting as Uncle Sam cracks the whip and calls the roll.

AMERICAN HANDSPRINGS

In diplomatic circles, it's discreetly stated that nothing has hurt American prestige more than our sudden somersault on Palestine. Comparing U. S. foreign policy with British policy, diplomats point out that the British at least are consistent. Even though you disagree with them, you always know where the British stand.

But American policy is unpredictable. It is one thing one day and another thing the next.

For many years western European nations were in the habit of following Britain's lead. She was the strongest nation in the western world. But now, with the United States the most powerful, they prefer to follow us—provided they know where we are. However, it hurts any nation's prestige to have to explain that its vote was reversed because the United States turned a hand spring.

Note—Remarkable one diplomat: "The United States is like the banker in a small town. You have many mortgages on other people's houses. So we always tip our hats to you, and usually vote with you. But the small-town banker isn't loved by the people who come to him for money, and that's why we don't always love you."

CONTEMPT OF COURT

The first of the ten Hollywood screen writers, charged by the Thomas committee with being Communists, is now on trial. Of the ten, inside word is that six are Communists and four not. The latter refused to answer questions because of honest conviction that Congress had no right to ask a man what party he belongs to.

Midwest Landmark To Disappear Soon From the Highways

A midwest landmark as familiar as red barns and straight roads is on the way out. The rectangular dark-blue signs with which more than 17,000 dealer stations in fifteen north central states announce "Standard Service" are to be replaced, the Stanard Oil Company (Indiana) announced today.

A new oval emblem in red, white, and blue, bearing a torch and the single word, "Standard", has been chosen from among 400 designs to take the place of the blue rectangle known from Michigan to Montana. Legibility—in any weather and against any background, rural or urban—and graceful modern design are the principal reasons for the change.

It is nineteen feet from the bottom of the standard to the top of the oval. The sign will be illuminated. The face of the sign, in various sizes, will appear as an emblem on practically all packages and containers of products sold by the company.

The design adopted has blue letters on a white band, with the upper one-third of the oval red and the lower third blue. A torch

Iowa Bachelor, 75, Gives Away Million In Farm Properties

LeMars, Ia., (AP)—A wealthy, elderly bachelor who says "you should give away your wealth in the same business way you acquired it," plans to give away $1,000,000 worth of property.

He is Herman Schultz, 75, who said most of the property will go to his nephews and nieces, but some will be given to his friends. He said his several brothers and sisters do not need financial help.

Schultz said he worked as a farm hand until he was 30 years old before he saved his first $1,000. His property now consists of 37 farms in northwest Iowa, and five in South Dakota.

"I managed to raise my estate to $1,000,000 by avoiding waste," he said, "I want to dispose of my property without waste in the form of taxes."

He said he didn't want his heirs to have to pay heavy inheritance taxes. If they have to pay gift taxes, he said he will help them.

Schultz, who already has given away 12 farms ranging from 80 to 320 acres, said he would retain enough to live comfortably.

Jap Mines Washed Ashore In Oregon, 33 In Last 11 Days

Astoria, Oregon, (AP)—Five Japanese mines washed ashore off the Oregon and Washington coasts Sunday and the coast guard warned the public to stay clear of the explosives.

A sixth mine was exploded by coast guard rifle fire off the mouth of the Columbia river.

Four came ashore on the Oregon beaches and one at Neah Bay, Wash. The coast guard said it brought the total sighted and washed ashore on the coasts of the two states to 33 in the past 11 days.

A coast guardsman reported two boys found a mine Sunday night north of Newport, Ore., and reported to authorities "it was no good, because we tried to take the horns off."

Another was grounded at Seaside, Ore., where weekend throngs at the resort watched it bob in the surf.

The mines have drifted across the north Pacific from western Pacific waters mined by the Japanese during the war. Many are dead, but some of them are alive

Agriculture Course Urged in Sault H. S.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.—Bill Knox, associate editor of Hoard's Dairyman in Wisconsin, told Sault Lions and 40 farmers last night that there is no excuse for the lack of vocational agriculture teacher and course in Sault Ste. Marie high school.

He said room can be found, teachers can be found and money can be found if the ag course was really wanted, and it certainly should be wanted as an important step to a brighter farming future in Chippewa County. In this connection he praised former ag teacher Lyle Abel under whose tutelage, he said, he received the equivalent of a 4-year college course in high school.

Knox is the son of Rep. and Mrs. Victor A. Knox of Soo Township. He graduated from Sault High School and Michigan State, served a hitch in the U. S. Navy and is now with Hoard's Dairyman as dairy editor and expert whose chief duty is to cover agricultural colleges and other sources in quest of information on dairy problems and progress.

Addressing the annual Farmers' Night of the Sault Lions, Knox also urged farmers to promote Chippewa county as a dairying area by introducing purebred, high producing cattle. This, he said might be helped along by proper employment of artificial breeding. He recommended strongly herd testing for production as the only sure index of individual cow production. A 200-

An Outstanding Year in Metropolitan's History

"1947 was one of the best years in the history of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

"The Company's financial position was excellent. More Metropolitan policyholders than ever before enjoyed the blessings of life insurance. Through investments, the Company played a bigger role than in any preceding year in helping to keep the wheels of industry turning . . . to provide jobs and homes . . . and to maintain high standards of living.

"However, the year was not without its problems. Insurance costs were higher because of lower interest rates, and because of the prevalent increase in the cost of goods and services."

President Leroy A. Lincoln reported these facts in his account of the Company's 1947 activities in a motion picture entitled "Pages From An Open Book." Here are some other important facts about 1947 presented by Mr. Lincoln:

—Payments to policyholders and beneficiaries totaled $671,000,000—topping all records.

—More than 2,300,000 people bought Metropolitan policies during the year. The total of Metropolitan policyholders reached 32,384,000.

—At the year-end, policyholders owned a total of $37,250,000,000 of Metropolitan protection—the greatest amount in the Company's history.

—Metropolitan will pay in 1948 somewhat more in dividends to policyholders than in 1947, although there will be downward adjustments for certain classes of business.

Mr. Lincoln also reported that last year a committee representing all State Insurance Departments completed, as required by law, a periodic examination of Metropolitan. In their conclusions, the examiners reported:

"The examination of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company indicates that it is in a sound financial condition."

"Policy claims are paid promptly, and fair and equitable treatment has been accorded the policyholders."

Metropolitan's Annual Report for 1947, which is entitled "Pages From An Open Book," contains much additional information about the Company's operations. If you would like to have this booklet, fill in and mail the coupon below. A copy will be sent to you without charge.

LOCAL LIBRARY AID FUND SAFE

House Restores $371,625 Appropriation Bill

Lansing, Mich. (AP)—A $371,625 appropriation to restore state aid to local libraries is resting safely in a House bill making appropriations for educational purposes.

On a formal vote, the House over-ruled its ways and means committee to reinstate the item. The movement was led by Rep. Howard R. Estes (R-Birmingham).

Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tippecanoe) said the committee eliminated the item because it was "insignificant" compared to the "amount of sales tax diversion payments to the local units supporting these libraries."

He said "there is no intention X X X to sabotage any library service anywhere."

"That the state can not continue to meet its rising costs," he said, "X X G while suffering the huge loss of revenue caused by sales tax diversion is very elementary economics."

He said the library aid amounted to six cents per capita while the sales tax diversion totalled $6 per capita.

Proponents of restoring state library aid strongly contended its elimination would cripple such extra library services as bookmobiles, longer hours, and increased book purchases.

Tuberculosis Is Fought in Europe

New York (AP)—The greatest mass vaccination of children—perhaps 15,000,000—against tuberculosis is starting in Europe. They will be inoculated with BCG vaccine, which now is being used more and more as a protection against TB.

The program will be conducted under triple sponsorship of the International Children's Emergency Fund, the World Health Organization, and the governments of the various countries. Dr. Johannes Holm, who will be technical director of the new program, said 50,000,000 children will be given tuberculosis tests, and probably about one-third will receive the vaccine. It's given only to those who, as shown by the test, do not have or have not had the disease.

In one country, he said, 6,000,000 children were tested and about one-third reacted negatively. The mass program is scheduled in Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Greece, Italy, Yugoslavia, Romania, Austria, Poland, Albania, Finland and Hungary.

The other big weapon needed to protect children from TB is food. Dr. Holm said the rate of active TB in Europe now is four or five times above the normal rate.

Corporal Sheehan
Tells Club About
Driver Education

Corporal Ralph Sheehan of the Michigan State Police outlined the program of driver education which is in effect in Upper Michigan schools at the present time to the members of the Escanaba Business and Professional Women's club at their meeting held at the Sherman hotel this week.

Thirty-five schools in Upper Michigan have established driver education courses which are available to their students, Corporal Sheehan said. Instructors in these courses have attended special seminars to familiarize themselves with driver education and traffic rules, and they will attend another training session in Marquette this spring. Although the program is rather limited at the present time, Corporal Sheehan said they have every hope that the program will continue to grow. An important aim of this course is to develop skilled drivers, and to teach the student what his responsibility is to himself, the passengers in the automobile and to the community at large.

Millions of people who are driving today learned to drive in a hit and miss fashion and have developed no special skill as drivers of automobiles, Corporal Sheehan said. In order to cut down the number of traffic accidents, one of the first requisites is the development of skilled drivers. Corporal Sheehan also pointed out the need for correct observance of traffic rules and regulations by adults in order to impress upon children and the teen age group, the desirability of proper observance of such regulations.

Mrs. Bergland, Chairman
Mrs. Louise Bergland, chairman of the club's Health Committee, presided at the meeting, and she was assisted by Mrs. Elizabeth Gilmore and Miss Ellen Johnson.

President Alice Potter announced that the Iron Mountain Business and Professional Women's club would visit the Escanaba club at their April 27 meeting, which would include a visit to the Venus Sewing company plant following the dinner.

Mrs. Blanche Valentine, a new member of the club, was presented.

PAULA PREFERS PIGS
London, England (AP)—Paula Perks prefers pigs to perfume. After five years of work on a farm during the war she came to town and got a job in a London perfume shop.

But she quit to go back to the pigs. The odor of perfume, she said, "got me down."

PLAN BUILDING ON LUDINGTON

City To Give Easement For Railroad Spur

Alfred Brandt, Escanaba contractor, last night told the city council that he plans to construct a warehouse and office building for lease to the Jewel Tea company on property owned by Brandt in the 300 block, Ludington street.

The council heard Brandt and A. E. Hendrickson, Jewel Tea manager, request the city for an easement to extend a C&NW spur track across city-owned land in the 300 block to the site of the proposed mercantile building. In response to the request the city authorized the city attorney and city manager to draw a proper easement, since the line of the track would not interfere with the city's proposed use of its property.

Brandt said he hoped to start construction on the concrete and brick building within the next couple of weeks. The building will be 50 feet wide and 125 feet long and will cost between $25,000 and $30,000, Brandt said.

Yacht Club Lease
The city council took under advisement a request of the Escanaba Yacht Club for a 10-year lease of a piece of land near the yacht basin for the construction of a $5,000 yacht club house. The council will study the proposal further and is expected to act on the lease at its next meeting.

A petition by A. J. Goulais to have the city grade streets in the Goulais addition northwest of the athletic field was approved, and the city manager was instructed to proceed with the work. The cost to the city will be about $200, and Goulais' share of the cost will be $300. Only rough grading will be done.

At the request of the War Assets Administration the council authorized the purchase of insurance providing public liability protection at the north shore ore dock site being purchased by the city from the federal government. The insurance was necessary in completing the city's purchase contract.

The city council held over to its next meeting a salary study prepared by the city civil service board, when the matter will be taken up for consideration.

Assessments for sewer construction last year in the city, totaling about $4,000, will be placed upon the tax rolls and paid over a period of one to three years by the owners of abutting property. The action was the same as in previous years.

Improvement of yard areas at the veterans' housing location will be made by the city this spring, including the placing of top soil and the sowing of grass seed, the council was informed by the city manager. The cost to the city has been estimated at about $366.

Reno Beck, representing the Escanaba Softball Association, requested the council to have sewers extended to the lighted softball field. The city manager was requested to make a survey and report on estimated cost of the work.

The council approved an expenditure of $1,230 for the purchase of cedar poles needed by the city in the proposed extension of lines from an electric substation to be built near the intersection of South 23rd street and Old State Road. The area is rapidly building up in new residences.

Okey Land Purchase For City Airport Expansion

City Manager A. V. Aronson last night informed the city council that the Escanaba airport expansion project may be advertised for bids within a couple weeks, and the council authorized the purchase of additional land needed to extend the north runway.

The two and one-half acre plot of land at the north end of the north-south runway is owned by Conrad Paulson, and the purchase price is $3,500. Aronson told the council that the federal government would reimburse the city for one-quarter of the cost. There is a dwelling and two small buildings on the land. The city expects to sell these for removal.

Col. Floyd Evans, director of the Michigan department of aeronautics, who was in Escanaba earlier this week, advised the city manager that the state expected to ask for bids on the airport project within two or three weeks.

Total cost of the airport expansion project is $65,000. Of this total, the federal government will pay one-half the cost, the city of Escanaba one-quarter, and the state one-quarter.

The project includes extension of the runways from 2,640 to 3,800 feet on the north-south runway, and from 3,000 to 3,800 on the east-west runway. The construction of surfaced landing strips at each end of the runways is expected to be included in the project. Complete hard surfacing of the runways will come in a later project.

The city council last night postponed action on an airport lease between the city and Pioneer Aviation. The postponement was requested by Walter Arntzen, president of Pioneer Aviation.

Washington, D. C., (AP)—President Truman Monday nominated Herschel V. Johnson to be Ambassador at Brazil.

Johnson, a diplomatic career officer from North Carolina, has been serving as deputy U. S. representative to the United Nations Security Council. He succeeds William D. Pawley at Rio De Janeiro. Pawley recently resigned because of ill health.

Pawley has been in Bogota assisting Secretary of State Marshall at the Inter-American Conference there.

Johnson's successor in the U. N. post has not been chosen, presidential Secretary Charles Ross told reporters.

Johnson, a veteran of nearly 28 years diplomatic service, has been a top-ranking member of the United States delegation to the United Nations since April 23, 1946. Ranking as an ambassador, he has headed the delegation on numerous occasions, as a deputy to Warren A. Austin. Illness removed him from active work for several weeks recently.

A native of Atlanta, Georgia, Johnson is 53, and is a graduate of the University of North Carolina and the Harvard law school.

Record Oil Demand; Petroleum Industry Expands To Meet It

How the United States is now using as much oil as did the entire world about 10 years ago—even more than during World War II—and how the petroleum industry is carrying out a tremendous expansion program to help meet the record demand were related here last night by W. J. Duncan, manager of the Green Bay sales field of Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

Company officials addressed 125 Standard dealers from Escanaba and vicinity at a dealer conference in the Sherman Hotel.

Mr. Duncan declared petroleum supply is making new records almost every week but demand is even higher. "More oil products are being delivered today than ever before—about 15 per cent more than were needed for the peak demands of war," he said. "Military needs are still high. Domestic demand in 1947 was 31 per cent greater than in the biggest pre-war year! Seventy per cent more fuel oil is being used for heating homes than in 1941; much more fuel is used on the farms—more by industry—more by diesel locomotives and airplanes—more by America's motor cars and trucks. For the first time in our peace time history, demand is a little ahead of supply."

To help meet the demand the petroleum industry has a tremendous expansion program in full swing, the speaker declared. "America's oil companies are setting new records in production and refining. They are working 24 hours a day, seven days a week. They are investing $4,000,000,000 in new equipment in 1947-48. But scarcity of various materials has been delaying construction of needed new facilities for production, refining, and transportation."

Voluntary public cooperation in conservation measures and the expansion of petroleum facilities to provide more supply are the American way to help meet the record demand for oil products, it was emphasized.

In addition to W. J. Duncan, members from the Green Bay sales field office who attended the conference were: S. E. Armstrong, Assistant Manager; J. H. Ehler, Sales Manager; G. M. Crooks, Special Representative-TBA; A. G. Nelson, Special Representative-Reseller; J. S. Schneider, Special Representative; L. F. Lodi, Assistant Sales Promoter-Reseller; and W. B. Addis, Advertising and Public Relations Representative.

BOBO NEWSOM JOINS GIANTS

He's In Great Shape, Ruark Reports

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

New York—It is not spring for some people until the daffodils begin to sprout, and others hold out for robins and even for a fresh love affair as a vernal sign. But I have a better barometer.

It is springtime for me when Master Louis Norman Newsom, otherwise known as Buck and Bobo, hangs his hat in the locker of whatever new ball club he has decided to bless with his presence, and calmly announces that this year Ol' Bobo is a cinch to win 20. Maybe 30. Maybe 40. It is then I put the overcoat in mothballs and go shopping for straw hats, because even if it's snowing outside, spring has definitely sprung.

This year Mr. Newsom, the Johnny Appleseed of baseball, has chosen the Giants as a backdrop for his talent. This is no casual decision on Mr. Newsom's part. He is a perfectionist, and it fretted him somewhat that he had never played for the Giants, since he had put in considerable time with the Yankees and also with the Dodgers.

Collects Baseball Teams

Mr. Newsom collects baseball teams, as other people collect stamps and paintings and the Park Ave. pack collects new mates. When Mr. Newsom comes upon a major league team for which he has never pitched, he cannot rest until he has led it out of darkness, in person. Since he came up from the minors in 1932, Bobo has worked, in this order, for the Cubs, the Browns, the Senators, the Red Sox, the Browns again, the Tigers, Washington again, the Dodgers, the Browns again and Washington again, the Athletics, Washington still again, and finally the Yankees.

It is not that Buck is a fickle man. He has a homing affection for Clark Griffith and the Senators, just as Arline Judge always seems to come back to the Topping boys. Buck's heart is with Griff, but he feels deeply that it would be unfair for him to retire without having exposed himself to everybody. This is a feat which he should be able to wrap up before 1952, since he is good for two teams a season. He lacks only the White Sox and the Indians to make his American League record perfect, and he has performed for three of the eight National League teams.

It is natural for you to say that maybe age will overcome Mr. Newsom before he has played for his 16th separate club, since he has been in baseball since 1928. Do not worry about Mr. Newsom and age. Down in Hartsville, S.C., where he keeps his hound dogs, Mr. Newsom has a little spring. He bathes in it each winter.

Fountain of Youth

Senor Ponce de Leon, when he was searching for the Fountain of Youth, was a little too far south. Actually, had he penetrated to Hartsville, he might have discovered the fountain in a plot of land that was destined to be Mr. Newsom's back yard. To my certain knowledge, Buck has been 35 years old since 1935, indicating that he has found a way to freeze Father Time in his tracks.

I may have mentioned before that Louie Norman Newsom is not as other men. He is not only as good as he thinks he is, but sometimes better. When he gets his brains beat out, to wit last year's Yank-Dodger series, it is not because he was bad that day, but just because of lucky flukes, like the ball hitting the bat when Mr. Newsom intended all the time to miss it.

Also, Mr. Newsom was a mite weary from pitching the Yankees into a pennant, and he had broken no bones lately. With Newsom, a compound fracture is more beneficial than a session at Hot Springs. Like the Phoenix, he arises refreshed from his splints. It seems to me that he is the only pitcher who ever finished a game with a broken leg, and who was so infatuated with the fracture that he repeated it twice shortly thereafter—once by being kicked by a mule and once by falling off a mountain.

Mr. Newsom, I understand, is in great shape this year, which is to say he weighs no more than 245, and he may even be a year younger. His arm is still constructed of purest postwar rubber, and his confidence unshaken by the added state of the Democratic party and the world. Under the weather gets too hot, he should be invincible.

No indeed, I have no wish to be in England, now that April's here. It is the Polo grounds for yours truly, to watch the performance of the one great machine that the Russians will never be able to duplicate. So long as we have Bobo, all is well with the world.

HOSPITAL GRANT RATINGS LISTED

Peninsula Cities Hold Highest Priorities

Lansing, (AP)—Michigan cities anxious to share in $10,855,000 in federal grants for hospital construction have been advised to get their plans underway and submit them to the Michigan Advisory Hospital Council.

Michigan will be eligible for $2,171,000 in federal grants a year for five years for hospital construction. Local communities must match federal funds two to one to be eligible for aid.

A priority list for 71 Michigan cities was announced by the hospital council.

St. Ignace, in the Upper Peninsula was given the A-1 rating and Ann Arbor was given the last rating, of D-71.

A survey by the hospital group showed 14,040 suitable beds available in the state. It declared that an additional 13,736 beds are needed.

The committee recommended that emphasis be placed on general hospital construction. It declared that consideration will not be given to the construction of general hospitals of less than 50 beds but will be given to construction of special types of hospitals, such as institutions for tubercular, mental and chronic patients, if they fit in the overall state plan.

It was emphasized that even cities very low on the priority list may apply to the advisory council for help in obtaining federal aid. If they can meet all other requirements, low priority cities are likely to receive funds ahead of cities with a higher priority who do not meet the requirements, the council said.

The priority list as compiled by the council:

So fashionable did the exotic garden bloom become in the land of dikes and windmills that it caused an exciting financial boom followed by a near-panic. Bidding for bulbs of scarce new varieties mounted, turning into wild speculation.

Reaching its height from 1634 to 1637, the tulip mania found even the shrewdest Dutchmen forgetting the perishable nature of the subject of their fascination. Rich and poor pooled cash in syndicates buying rare bulbs for pennyweight like diamonds, paying as much as $10,000 apiece. The Dutch Government itself finally clamped on controls that stabilized the young industry.

Growing and exporting tulip bulbs is big business in the Netherlands. Some 8,000 tons, valued at $7,000,000, were shipped to the United States in 1947. Although this surpasses the prewar volume, it is less than England takes.

Tulip Festivals in U. S.

In war years, bulbs from American nurseries, notably in Michigan and the Pacific northwest, and cottage tulips from England replaced Darwins and Breeders from the Netherlands. The war threatened destruction of Dutch industry in late 1944, when Holland's people, aiding their own liberation with a railroad strike against the German occupation, warred off starvation by devouring a half billion bulbs.

Dutch settlers founded Holland, Michigan, and Pella, Iowa, a century ago. Emulating their ancestors, present generations carry on tulip agriculture. Tourist visitors come by thousands to witness their spring Tulip Feasts.

The townspeople turn out in Dutch dress—baggy pants, billowy skirts, and wooden shoes. The four-day festivals start by scrubbing the streets in the true addition of Dutch cleanliness. Gardens, lawns and curbs are striped with bright yellow and orange blooms of home-grown and imported tulip bulbs in great variety.

Hollywood

Column

BY ERSKINE JOHNSON
Hollywood (NEA)—I defended James Mason's gentle kidding of the Hollywood scene, but now I think he and his wife, Pamela, are carrying things too far. Their latest outburst against Hollywood, from Phoenix, Ariz., where they are vacationing for two months, was quite unnecessary.

Variety quoted Pam as saying Hollywood is a terrible place because it has turned out only one good picture during the past year: "Treasure of the Sierra Madre," and that the town ought to be ashamed of itself for giving Oscars to actors it feels sentimental about instead of to those who earn them.

She is also quoted as saying Hollywood is wicked for reissuing those awful old Mason pictures and then offering to sell them back to Mason for a paltry $5000 when they failed at the box office and besides, "Times has a terrific aversion to Hollywood."

The reissuing of his early films probably is what is irking them.

Story Huddle
Margaret Truman is being pegged for a Hollywood singing role. Two major studios and an independent would like to cash in on all her publicity.

Paul Muni and Ben Hecht are huddling on a movie based on Hans Van Meer, the Dutch artist who faked the old masters and sold them to the Nazis.

RKO is killing all the cheese-cake art and glamor girl publicity on Jane Greer. She'll get a straight dramatic actress buildup after she has her baby in a few weeks.

Barbara Bel Geddes is pleading with RKO for a modern story. Three period pictures in a row, "I Remember Mama," the currently filming "Blood on the Moon," and her next, "Baltimore Etcetera," a 1914 suffrage story, have Barbara drooling for the new instead of the old look.

I've received a number of protests from school teachers over Loretta Young's new role of a school teacher who murders one of her pupils in "The Accused." Maybe the teachers will feel better about it knowing it's done in self-defense.

"The Bellevue Story," a new novel about New York's famous hospital, has several studios considering it as film fare. Another hospital story, "Men in White," was one of Hollywood's big money-makers.

Video Star
Lionel Strander will star in Rudy Vallee's first television short. . . . Frank Morgan flies to the Panama Canal late in May to meet his new 91-foot motor-sailer. . . . Susan Peters, still in a wheel chair, just auditioned for a new Century Artists air show ironically titled, "Really Living."

I'm happy to hear that Greer Garson is sensational as a comedienne in "Julia Misbehaves." I called about a comedy role for Greer for two years. Congratulations to the producer, Everette Riehm, who turned Irene Dunne into a comedienne with "The Awful Truth."

"The Babe Ruth Story" probably will have its world premiere at Yankee Stadium. . . . Viveca Lindfors heads for Stockholm this summer to discuss her divorce from Folke Rogard. He wants custody of one of their two children.

DECISION MADE ON BARGAINING

Employers Required To Dicker, Says NLRB

Washington, (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board ruled Tuesday that employers must bargain with their employees on pension plans if the employees request it.

The 4-1 decision was the first on this subject in the board's 13-year history. The four-man majority held that such plans come within the scope of the Taft-Hartley law which requires both employers and unions to bargain collectively "in respect to rates of pay, wages, hours of employment, or other conditions of employment."

The board held that the payment of benefits under pension plans falls within the meaning of "wages."

It said the terms of retirement—such as the age when pensions begin—would come within the category of "conditions of employment."

The ruling was made in a case involving the Inland Steel company. The board found the company guilty of refusing to bargain collectively.

It held the company had violated both the Taft-Hartley law and the Wagner Act under which the case was originally filed in August, 1946.

The board issued a conditional order. It told the company to bargain with two locals of the CIO steelworkers concerning the pension and retirement policies if the union complies with the registration and non-Communist of the requirements of the Taft-Hartley law within 30 days.

Freedom Of Press Scores An Empty Victory In Lansing

Lansing, Michigan (AP)—News-men covering the house of representatives scored a moral if empty victory for freedom of the press Wednesday.

The house leadership called an unprecedented secret session to discuss a proposal for four-year terms for governors. They thought there was a possibility of trading their support of it for Governor Sigler's support of four-year terms for legislators.

The motion to exclude the press and spectators, made by Rep. T. Jefferson Hoxie (R-St. Louis), slipped by on a voice vote.

The spectators scurried from the galleries and seats in the back of the room.

The sergeants at arms closed and locked the massive wooden doors.

All was ready for the secret discussions, except for one thing—the newspapermen.

The seven correspondents accredited to the house had gathered in a tight little knot in front of their desks alongside the speaker's rostrum. They muttered among themselves and waved copies of the constitution and house rules.

Speaker Victor A. Knox, somewhat rattled, called a recess. Sergeant-at-arms Ed Krainbrink approached the newsmen.

"Ah—," he said, "when are you gentlemen leaving?"

"You're going to have to throw us out," said one.

"Never," said others.

Lindfors heads for Stockholm this summer to discuss her divorce from Folke Rogard. He wants custody of one of their two children.

State Conservation Officers To Cease Highway Blockades

Lansing, Mich., (P)—The conservation commission Wednesday put itself on record as opposing road blockades by conservation officers.

"That means there will be no road blockades in Michigan," said Chairman Donald B. Mc Louth.

The motion was proposed by Commissioner Harold Glasse who said that there were "a lot of people concerned about road blockades under the Searches and Seizures Bill now pending in the legislature."

Glasse said that he made the motion to show the "good faith" of the commission even though Commission Attorney Nicholas Olds said that blockades would not be legalized under the proposed bill.

The bill, expected to be voted on in the House this week, provides that taking game is a privilege which the state may grant on condition that hunters and fishermen permit conservation officers' searches which would ordinarily be unconstitutional.

The road blockades were employed by the conservation department some years ago particularly during deer season, when all cars were stopped and checked for possession of illegal game.

The commission agreed to cooperate with the State Corrections Commission in the development of a prison camp in the Waterloo recreation area, near Jackson.

COUNCIL RAISES ASSESSOR'S PAY

Move Made In Special Meeting Thursday

For the first time in years the city council found itself divided into two definite factions that were sharply at variance with each other.

At a special meeting Thursday evening, the following resolution was passed: "Resolved that the pay of the city assessor be $200 per calendar month, to the end of the board of review meeting in June. The resolution shall become effective at once."

At the outset of the meeting, Mayor Walter Burns called it to order at 7:30 o'clock. Present were the mayor, and councilmen William Berger and George Stephens. Councilmen William Sellman and Otto Schubring were absent. Mayor Burns stated that the purpose of the meeting was to fix the salary of the newly elected assessor, Frank Voisey.

Councilman Stephens moved that the salary of his predecessor, Alex Robertson, of $300 be continued. Burns seconded the motion. Stephens and Burns voted "yes." Berger went on record as not voting.

About ten minutes later Schubring and Sellman arrived and when apprised of the action taken, Sellman moved that it be rescinded. Berger seconded the motion. Berger, Sellman and Schubring voted "Yes." Burns and Stephens voted "No."

Sellman then moved that the new assessor's pay be combined with that of his duties as city water tester and city tool custodian and be fixed at $200 per month. Then came a long series of pros and cons in which an effort was made to determine how much each duty should figure in the salary. It also became a puzzle to determine how these jobs could be combined when some of them are under jurisdiction of the city manager while the city assessor job is appointed by the council.

The matter was finally brought to the resolution from as stated above which indicates something in the nature of a pay boost for the new assessor.

Q. Were the pyramids of Egypt greater than those of the western hemisphere?
A. No. The great pyramid west of Cholula, in southeastern Mexico, built during the reign of Montezuma (1466-1520), is bigger. Its base on each side is 1423 feet long, which is double that of the Egyptian pyramids. However, its height does not exceed 164 feet. It was built by the Aztecs.

Q. May a veteran obtain a GI Bill loan to build his own house?
A. The Veterans' Administration does not prohibit a veteran from building his own home, nor does the GI Bill contain any such restrictions. However, the Veterans' Administration allows the local lending agency to make its own approval and encourages private building. If the veteran is capable of doing his own construction work and all other requirements are met, there is no reason why he should not be able to obtain a loan to build his own home.

Q. How many wives of former Presidents of the U. S. (now deceased) are still living?
A. Four. Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. Calvin Coolidge and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, wife of the twenty-third president, died recently.

Q. The certificate has been forwarded to your superintendent, Mr. Ranguette, with the request that he present it to you in our behalf. We hope that this letter will in part convey the good wishes we should like to express personally.

JURY TRIAL IN SECOND DAY

War Prisoner Angle Is Injected Into Case

The civil suit, Standard Oil company of Indiana vs. Milo F. Gonser, Seney lumberman, continued on through the second day in the current term of circuit court.

The morning session on Thursday was taken up chiefly with testimony dealing with quality of oil used by Gonser. A representative of the Standard Oil company, called by Gonser's attorney, explained at length features of this particular lubricating oil. Much of this testimony pertained to an advertising booklet published by the company.

Much of the afternoon session was taken up with testimony by Geo. Lamantine employed during a period of time involved in the controversy, by Gonser. On cross examination by J. J. Herbert, representing the Standard Oil company, it was brought to light that German prisoners of war had been employed by Gonser.

Whether or not this will be taken as an intimation that they and not the oil used by Gonser were responsible for the breakdown of several trucks and a diesel motor owned by the company will be brought out when pleas to the jury are made.

The suit was brought by the Standard Oil Company to recover payment for oil used by Gonser, but the case now being tried is a counter claim by Gonser who alleges that the oil provided by the Standard Oil dealer at Seney was of an inferior grade and that because of its use much of his motorized equipment was put out of commission causing much expense and loss caused by shut-downs of his saw mill. He is asking $16,000 in damages.

The court room was well filled with interested spectators.

Industries and Smoke
Manistique, Mich., April 15/48

I am writing this in reply to the article written by Walter Nelson in the Press of April 13th. His motto being "Squelch The Squawker."

It is regrettable that Mr. Nelson, of the Manistique Chamber of Commerce, should make such a remark.

I am sure we should have people in this important office who is more understanding. Mr. Nelson says we are going to work for more industries. While doing that must be buried in cinders and dirt, our homes and health jeopardized?

Perhaps Mr. Nelson has not read the articles written by the Medical Association. Must we overlook the fact that the health of our children are at stake? Does it take such a condition as we are now living under to induce industries into our town?

I am taking care of the public. My hotel rooms and beds must be clean. Our yards and surrounding conditions must be presentable. I am obliged to keep extra help in my business place in order to just keep the inside clean.

It is truly no credit to our Chamber of Commerce or our city officials to allow these conditions to exist.

Why should we build Hospitals and donate to Cancer funds, Red Cross, for ill children's fund, when our city will condone such a dangerous and filthy condition as we are now living under on the West side of town?

Mr. Nelson advocates pasteurized milk for health. Why give us pasteurized milk for health and still leave such filth covering us 24 hours a day?

If our Chamber of Commerce is truly interested in getting new industry in our city, in order to get to our hotels and resorts, we must have healthy, clean, livable conditions. Clean air and water, and make our city attractive and fresh.

Don't litter up our streets and highways, try to give growing children a better chance to live in clean and healthy surroundings. Be fair to both sides of our town. Not just having a few who hold a whip hand over a lot of our people. Have a free country?

I am afraid we have not. Did we send our boys overseas so they would come back and try to blast us out of our homes, because we want to live a clean normal life? I think not.

It is regrettable that our Chamber of Commerce is so narrow on this subject. Can our city ever be one that will induce outsiders to come into it under the con-

Railroad Bridge At Port Inland Total Fire Loss

A railroad bridge which crosses the Milkokkia river leading to the dynamite quarry at Port Inland was completely destroyed by fire Saturday night, according to a report by a company official Wednesday.

The bridge, a heavily timbered span about 40 feet in length was a complete loss representing damages amounting to about $300.

The loss of the bridge, however, will in no way hamper operations at Port Inland as it has been used very little since 1942.

The cause of the fire has not been ascertained.

X-RAY UNIT TO VISIT HERE

Chest X-Ray Will Be Made Free Of Charge

A mobile X-ray unit from the Michigan Department of Health will be in Manistique next month from May 18 to May 26 for the purpose of taking chest X-rays and later reporting on them. The service will be without charge.

Jack Newitt of the Bureau of Tuberculosis Control of the state department of health, was in the city Wednesday to make arrangements for the service. Similar arrangements were made at that time with Dr. Ervin J. Brenner, county health physician, for a similar visit of the unit to Munising, this date being from May 27 to June 4.

X-rays will be available for all adults and for children 14 years and over free of charge.

The unit was here about a year ago when several hundred people availed themselves of the opportunity to have films taken of their chests. Reports on the findings arrived here about two weeks later. Schedules and other information will be announced later.

Building Store On Road Leading To Big Spring

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Markham, who for the past several seasons have had the management and concessions at the Big Spring, are going into business for themselves. They are breaking ground preparatory to the erection of a way-side store and luncheon on land at the junction of Old Highway U. S. 2 and the road turning north to the Big Spring. The location is across the road from what was formerly the Elk Horn Store.

ditions that now exist?

The people on the West side are always remembered when it is necessary to solicit funds, but are sadly neglected in most other ways.

Wake up Chamber of Commerce and City Officials. Keep our town clean and healthy, and beautiful. Be fair to everyone, not just a selected few. Give the people on the West side of the river the same consideration they have on the East side. Then I am sure things will be much improved.

Mrs. Irene Crosby, Hotel Crosby, City.

Battle Looms Between ABC, Alley Proprietors At Detroit Convention

Detroit, April 16 (P)—A battle between the American Bowling Congress and the Bowling Proprietors Association of America loomed today as the ABC opened its 45th annual convention.

The dispute concerned the ABC's refusal to kill a proposal which would give the Congress authority to remove ABC alley certification from any establishment where an owner was found guilty of conduct detrimental to the best interests of bowling.

One member of the BPAA board of directors said his group would refuse to sanction its leagues for ABC competition unless the Congress withdrew the proposal.

Some 500 delegates to the convention also were to decide on various other questions, including a possible easing of the ABC ruling barring non-caucasian bowlers from the annual tournament.

However, that proposal seemed slated for rejection.

The ABC executive committee, ending a three day session yesterday, indicated it would recommend to the general convention that the present system be kept.

A total of 62 amendments to ABC bylaws were originally slated to go before the convention, but many of these were eliminated by the pre-convention executive committee session. However, any delegate may bring up one of the issues from the floor, although the committee has dropped it.

Chief among the topics on today's agenda were:

1—A proposed plan to have the Congress take over direct and complete supervision of its own national tournament, rather than placing arrangements in the hands of a local committee.

2—A suggested amendment to eliminate the long-standing "alley man" rule, restricting teams to a single bowler whose main income is associated with a bowling establishment.

The move to have the ABC take over direct control of its own tournament would not affect the 1949 tournament which has been assigned to Atlantic City, N. J. It would take effect in 1950 and the convention city for that year will be named today. Indianapolis' bid is not expected to meet with opposition.

Another recommendation, supported by the executive committee, would broaden the restriction on the weight of pins.

At present, certified pins must weigh from three pounds to three pounds, eight ounces. An amendment would permit pins vary in weight from two pounds, 14 ounces to three pounds, 10 ounces. Variations among mates in any set however could never be more than four ounces.

Yesterday's tournament rolling produced no changes in the top ten leaders.

Mary Agnes Loses To Peggy Kirk in North-South Golf

Pinehurst, N. C., April 16 (P)—Four semi-finalists feed off today in the 46th annual North and South Women's Golf tournament.

Peggy Kirk, of Chapel Hill, N. C., a 2 and 1 setback in the quarter-finals yesterday.

Today's winning pair will meet for the title tomorrow at 18 holes over the No. 2 course with a women's par of 74 and a distance of 6,142 yards.

Miss Kirk's opponent today, Miss LeRoy, had a qualifying 79, including an outgoing 34; Miss Dinger was one of three at 77 and Miss Suggs had a 78.

Miss LeRoy avenged a quarter-final loss in last year's tournament by handing veteran Mrs. E. LeRoy a 3 and 2.

Miss Suggs, last year's runner-up and two-time winner here, coasted in with a 4 and 3 decision over Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee, Mich.

Trill Carol Dinger gained an uphill 3 and 2 decision over Helen Sigel, Philadelphia.

LeRoy Willis Cops State Fight Title

Saginaw, Mich., April 16 (P)—LeRoy Willis of Detroit held the state lightweight boxing title again today after taking a 10-round decision from Bill Eddy of Flint at the auditorium last night.

Both fighters formerly carried the title, which was vacated recently when Eddie Prince of Detroit moved to California.

A crowd of 1,708 which paid a gross gate of $3,650 kept calling for more action in the rather dull scrap. There were no knock-downs.

KEISER MAN TO BEAT

Virginia Beach, Va., April 16 (P)—Herman Keiser looked like the man to beat today as 15 of the nation's top-ranking professional golfers teed off in the $10,000 Cavalier Specialists' tournament.

The Akron, Ohio, stylist was red hot in the couple of tuneup rounds over the par 69 Cavalier Country Club 6,065-yard layout. After shooting a 64 Wednesday, he came back yesterday to establish a new course record with a seven-under-par 62.

Watch Trucks! He's Developed A 'Sinkers'

Pittsburgh, April 16 (P)—Virgil Trucks is hoping his new, accidentally discovered delivery will improve his effectiveness for the Detroit Tigers this season.

Trucks, whose fast ball usually is effective until the batters on the opposing team solve it because of its sameness, reported today he finally had mastered the long-sought "sinker pitch."

"I have been trying to throw one for years," the tall right-hander confided. "Now I know I've got it figured out."

Trucks explained he had had a fast ball, a fast curve and a slider for years, and they have won him a fair share of ball games.

"But to win games in the big leagues now-a-days, you have to have that extra pitch," he added. "The sinker rounds out my repertoire."

Its discovery came strictly by chance.

"I was throwing hard to Hal Wagner," Virgil related, "and the ball suddenly zipped crazily downward. He said, 'if you remember how you gripped that last pitch, try it again.'"

"So I tried it for about two dozen pitches, and it worked beautifully every time. The trick is in the way the ball is held and in switching from slightly overhand to a semi-sidearm pitch."

Trucks has had a much varied training camp season. He held major league teams to only one run in his first 20 innings of exhibition game pitching.

Then, after being out 10 days with a sore back, he came back to lose 8 to 7 and 9 to 7 to a pair of Southern Association clubs, Birmingham and Memphis.

He'll get a half-game assignment tomorrow against the Pittsburgh Pirates. Manager Steve O'Neill, who announced his pitchers are through with nine-inning chores until the American League season opener at Chicago next Tuesday, picked Trucks and Paul Trout to share mound duties in the first of two games with the Pirates.

Sunday it will be Freddie Hutchinson and Art Houtteman. Hal Newhouse, named as opening day pitcher, will get a rest until he takes on the White Sox to launch the Tigers' 1948 schedule.

Escanabans Top Four Events In U. P. Lions Pin Meet In Daggett

By BILL MCCARTHY

Escanaba Lions club bowlers roared into Daggett last weekend to establish themselves in first place in all four events of the Upper Peninsula Lions bowling tournament. Harry Gagner tossed in the number four slot, enjoyed a field day by twirling a 544 team set, a 630 singles and 614 in doubles to rank first in all-events with 1788 pins. His 630 singles series was garnered on games of 181-205-234 to head the field in this division. Teaming with Harry Needham he matched his powerful 184-181-245-614 with Harry's 198-166-171-535 group to annex the doubles lead with 1149. Aided by a 42-pin per game handicap, the locals rolled consistent games of 899-882-891 to soar into the team event lead with 2682. Although this tourney will not be concluded for several weeks, Escanaba bowlers have definitely established a mark for future competitors to shoot at, and our bet is that at least three of the four record scores will stand.

Paced by anchorman Walter Vandeweghe, Liberty Loans made a clean sweep of their postponed match with Escanaba Paper Co. to decide the runner-up spot in the Classic League. Walter smashed out games of 189-190-245 for a 624, the highest set bowled for the week. His 245 also rates as high single game. Ray Wahowiak contributed a 551 and Leo Godin and Harry Gagner 522's to complete the onslaught.

Escanaba's Arcadians are now in Detroit to compete in the ABC tournament this weekend. Members of the team are Nick Deville, Carl Sawyer, Charley Robinson, Eino Heino and Bill Bougie. This group should not be hampered by the usual jitters that accompany the "big show" as Charley and Carl are veteran ABC performers while Nick has completed in about five of them. Eino and Bill are a pair of cool, steady keggers, who are capable of bowling with the best.

Bowling in the eighth annual city tournament progressed according to schedule as the Paper Mill league teams exploded to grab six of the top ten places in the team event. Current leaders are the Papermakers after usurping Clairmont Transfer with a 2922 series. Stegath Lumber and Escanaba Paper follow with 2834 and 2832, respectively. Tonight at 7 marks the opening of the singles and doubles events as two shifts of Tri-County league bowlers take the alleys. Three duos of City league bowlers will join the remainder of the Tri-County boys on the 9 shift, and Saturday at 7 another group of City leaguers will toss, followed by open bowling at 9. On Monday at 7 City league teams will aim their sights at that 2922 high, and on Tuesday at 7 Classic leaguers will bowl doubles and singles. A nod of congratulations to Nick Deville upon the efficient, smooth manner this tourney is being handled.

IN A NUTSHELL—The L.L. girls concluded their regular schedule Wednesday evening at the Elks by blasting an 853 game.

Rates second high behind their previous 880. Arlene Peterson supplied the added punch with a 199 game. Elks Monday night women's league concluded its exciting race in a triple tie.

Bink's, Curtis's, and Hengesh's tied for first with 23 wins and 22 losses, followed by Ferguson's with 21-24. On Monday, April 19, the ladies will open their annual club tournament. Escanaba and City leagues completed schedules this week. Top rung was won by the Independents with 29 wins and 13 losses.

Fr. Pat heads the individual averages with 162 and Harold Bruce held high set and high single game of 607, 245. City league champion UCT Srs. finished with 25-17, nosing out Wilkinson's by one game. Mel Nyquist's 164 proved top average of the loop. Delta league competition is focused on next Wednesday's finale with a six team scramble for the crown.

Kiwanis No. 1 and the Bark River Lions are now tied with 22-17. One game behind follows the Bark River Culvert and J. C. Penney with 21-18. Kiwanis No. 2 with 20-19, and Escanaba Lions rate a mathematical chance for at least a share with their 20-19 and 19-20 standing.

Corbett's have already cinched the Major league. Entries are mounting for the Third Annual Mixed Doubles Tournament to begin at the Arcade alleys on or about May 15.

A new bowling ball or the equivalent in cash will be awarded to both members of the winning team. A special invitation is extended to all bowlers from Escanaba, Gladstone and Rock. Since this Handicap meet is a re-entree affair, you may sign up as often as desired provided you bowl with a different partner. Split Artists: Isobel Klug, 3-7 (twice); Mary Leonard and Mary Butler, 8-10; Phyllis Benard, 4-7-9; F. Ross, and Rose Alperovitz, 5-7-10; C. Lundeen and Art Anderson, 6-7-10.

DEAD-EYE DONALD—Donald Gratz, who won the east-central regional qualifying round of the national pool billiard tournament of the Boys' Club of America with 157 in five innings, seeks senior honors in the organization's final round games, ending in New York, April 14. The Bedford, Ind., 15-year-old captured the national title in the junior division last year.

FAIN PROVIDES SPARK FOR A'S

No Box Score Shows His Value, Mack Says

Baltimore (P)—Connie Mack says he's convinced it's more than coincidence that his Philadelphia Athletics have been hustling faster and hitting harder since Ferris Fain rejoined the team.

"He is a much more valuable player than any box score could show," said Mack.

NEW YORK GIANTS
Owensboro, Ky., (P)—Larry Jansen, expected to be the opening day pitcher for the New York Giants, will give his arm a final test today against the Cleveland Indians. Jansen has yet to go a full nine innings. Sheldon "Avallable" Jones, who blanked the Indians on four hits yesterday, will probably get the starting nod if Jansen doesn't impress today. Jones has gone the route twice.

PITTSBURGH PIRATES
Pittsburgh (P)—The Pittsburgh Pirates were due home today for their final two exhibition games with the Detroit Tigers. The Pirates have won 17 of their 32 exhibition contests.

CLEVELAND INDIANS
Owensboro, Ky., (P)—The Cleveland Indians' first base problem was more muddled than ever today. Vice-president Hank Greenberg, expected to fill in for the ailing Eddie Robinson, was sidelined with an ankle injury and Elbie Fletcher, the only other first baseman on the squad, has a bruised foot. Walt Judnich, who played first occasionally for the St. Louis Browns, came in from the outfield to fill in yesterday.

Foxes Upset Hardwares, 57-42; Meet In Finales Here Saturday

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS SPORTS

BY JIM WARD

The way M. L. (Mac) Council is whipping into his new extra-curricular job of chairman of the greens committee at the Escanaba Golf club has raised hopes of members for great improvement of soil conditions at the local course.

Mac is a veritable whirlwind, a beehive of activity. All power equipment at the course is new, and Mac has procured the services of Ernest Logerquist, a successful farmer who understands soil and scientific growing methods.

Soil tests are being prepared in cooperation with nationally known agronomists from Michigan State college to institute latest methods in scientific research in the effort to improve the soil at the Escanaba club.

In the words of W. J. Lavolette, active secretary of the club: "Never in the history of our organization have we embarked on as extensive a program of rejuvenation as is now in progress."

At the outset of the 1948 season, the club has the best equipment it has ever had: Two green mowers completely reconditioned, a new tractor with dump box and power take-off, a new power cutter with oscillating blades for tee and green trimming.

So there, you have it, and with Mac on the job, you are assured of plenty of action. Mrs. Stanley Venne heads the women's activities at the Escanaba club.

Cleaning off the cuff: Harry Anderle, a native of Menominee and football and basketball coach at Marinette during the hey-day of Jug Girard, is athletic coach at Port Huron high school. . . . His teams will perform in that $500,000 outdoor athletic plant you saw pictured on this page two days ago. . . . Homer Hinkle, basketball coach at Butler university, will be basketball instructor at the U. P. Coaches clinic in Marquette in August. . . . Ed Henriksen, St. Joseph's basketball star, plans to enter Sioux Technical college for electrical engineering studies.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

Virginia Beach, Va., April 16 (P)—Here's a sports parlay for you: The Norfolk Sports Club and the first "specialists" golf tournament.

The reason for combining the two is that the Sports Club, which claims to have a unique setup, is one of the sponsors of this unique golf tournament, which takes place this week-end. . . . The club is distinguished from ordinary "quarterback" groups, is a year-round organization which takes in followers of all sports. . . . The golf tournament, the likes of which hasn't been seen before, is a select competition which is open to only about 16 of the best pros in the business. . . . Originally, they were selected because of their special skills at special types of shots, but it will work out with Captains Gene Sarazen and Walter Hagen picking the players to beat the other guys' team—and to heck with the voting. . . . Incidentally, the athletes will get $500 apiece guarantee. So it doesn't matter financially who wins what event. That's just fine.

Bob Hamilton, who came here after a so-so performance in the Master's tournament in Augusta, is meaning that all the Augusta money was left in North Carolina traffic courts.

Enroute north Bob was stopped for speeding and fined $100. . . . The next day Jimmy Demaret and Lawson Little were halted in the same town. . . . they drew $40 fines. . . . Moaned Bob: "I don't know why they had to pick on the poor folks, while the ones who made all the money got off easy."

Columbus, Ohio, already has made a $35,000 bid for the 1949 professional Golfers Association tournament but Richmond, Va., still in the bidding, is only five G's behind. . . . Whitey Abel, who has won money with more than one unsound horse, maintains that Stanley Sumner's Derby hope that Saggy is sometimes like Assault. Because of his weak underpinning, Saggy toes out a trifle with one foot. . . . He can win on soft, well-cushioned tracks but can't do anything on those fast "card-board" racing strips like Belmont or Chicago. . . . Tom Utterback, a member of the PGA sponsors committee, has contributed fancy blazers to the contestants in the specialists' tourney. . . . They're maroon jobs with gray silk shots showing what job the guy is supposed to do best.

JOE LOUIS SETTLES
Bloomington, Mich., April 16 (P)—Journeying Joe Louis flicked the dust of Europe from his shoes today and settled down to a month of "rest and roadwork" in this rolling farm country. Back in Michigan after a tour of France and England, the world's heavyweight champion pitched camp on the "hobby farm" of Irving Roane, a Detroit hotelman.

MacBeth's Kentucky Derby Stock Rises

Camden, N. J., April 16 (P)—The Kentucky derby stock of J. M. Roebeling's MacBeth has taken a decided boost but whether he goes in the run for the roses at Churchill Downs May 1 likely will depend on his showing in a longer race.

The chestnut colt came from far off the pace in the home stretch to win the six furlongs of the Camden handicap at Garden State Park's opening yesterday.

Woman Bowler of Year to Be Named

Detroit, April 16 (P)—The National Bowling Writers Association will name a "woman bowler of the year" in 1949 for the first time in its history.

The association, which for the past few years has made such an award to an outstanding male bowler, voted at its annual meeting last night to extend the competition to women keggers.

Well, it happened! Just what Manager Arnold Johnson & Co. feared would happen all along, what with the season waning and his team beginning to show signs of strain at the seams.

Hermansville's Silver Foxes rose on their haunches at the junior high gym here last night to turn back the Escanaba Delta Hardwares, 57-42, and square the NWM championship series at one-all.

Playing without Bob Ranguette and Tom Dufour, the Hardwares squeaked past the Foxes, 59-58, in the playoff opener in Hermansville last week. But last night even with Tommy Dufour back in the lineup, the Escanabans weren't quite up to snuff.

SATURDAY WINDUP

The final game of the Northwestern Wisconsin Michigan Basketball league championship playoff series between the Escanaba Delta Hardwares and Hermansville Silver Foxes will be played in the William Bonifas gym here tomorrow night, beginning at 8. The series now stands at one-all and Saturday's game will decide the championship.

They trailed 10-8 at the quarter, 21-19 at the half, 36-30 at the three-quarter mark and although they pulled up to 44-40 with only a few minutes left of play, they were never quite in the ball game. Hermansville closed fast from that point to hand the Hardwares their worst defeat of the season.

It was costly, too. Bob Dufour sprained his ankle and is out of action for the remainder of the season.

Inability to convert free throws hurt the Hardwares. They missed enough to win the ball game. With 28 chances, they converted only eight, while the Foxes were making good on 19 out of 31 chances.

Steve Machalk was the big wheel, scoring 17 points.

Big Nine Baseball Season Opens Today

Chicago, April 16 (P)—The 1948 Western Conference baseball season opened today with Michigan at Iowa, Wisconsin at Indiana, and Ohio State at Purdue for two-game stands. The same clubs meet again tomorrow.

Illinois, the defending champion, and Northwestern and Minnesota will open their 12-game conference campaigns next week-end. All have non-league games this weekend—Illinois against Danville of the Three-I league; Minnesota opposing Luther and Northwestern entertaining Michigan State.

Illinois, after an impressive spring southern trip in which the champions won five games, lost one and tied one, are favored to repeat chiefly because of the return of pitcher Marv Rotblatt.

OLYMPIC MAT TRIALS
Detroit, April 16 (P)—Bob Betzig, captain of the University of Michigan wrestling squad, and his teammate Jim Smith will compete tonight in preliminary bouts in the Olympic mat tryouts.

TONS OF SMELT BEING DIPPED

21,000 Pounds Marketed Here; Price Down

An estimated 50,000 pounds of smelt have been dipped from rivers and streams in the Escanaba area since the spring spawning run started a few days ago, and there appears to be no lessening of the volume of fish in the run, fishermen report.

At the Jensen and Jensen fish market it was reported today by Roy Jensen that 21,000 pounds had been purchased yesterday, and 18,000 pounds the day before. Because of the quantity being produced, and the work with other fish packing, only a few smelt were bought at the market this morning. More were being taken for handling this afternoon, Jensen said.

The price started out at a peak of 15 cents a pound for smelt. Today the price was 3 cents, and the fish were being frozen. The fresh fish market demand has been met, and the big volume of smelt will go into the freezers. Fish buyers for milk farms have been making purchases of smelt from dippers on the streams, and trucking them away. Smelt is used for milk food, and is frozen for storage.

Hundreds of dippers lined the banks of the Days, Taconish, Ford, Escanaba and other smelt streams and river in the Escanaba area the past several nights.

Eight fishermen have been arraigned thus far on charges of dip netting smelt without a state license. Each has been fined $5 and $9.55 costs. Warrants also have been issued for a number of others on similar charges.

Those arraigned to date follow: Larry Marheine, Kingsford; Francis Buckley and Dallas Goodchild, Iron Mountain; Frank Steede, Ed Anderson and Reynolds Vanlerberghe, Escanaba; Tony Rotkovich, Wells; Mrs. Emil Petrick, Perronville.

Four Troy, O., residents came to Escanaba for smelt fishing this week. The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce received a long distance telephone call from Ottawa, Ill., advising that five sportsmen will fly here in a private plane tomorrow.
